114 WORKERS AT QUEBEC HARBOR ARE DISMISSED

Maj. Power, Quebec Member, Asks Premier Bennett in Commons Why Government Is Adding to Total of Unemployed; Bennett Promises to Investigate Proposals Loudspeakers Be Set Up in Commons Chamber.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—In the House of Commons this afternoon, Major C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, stated 114 people employed by the Quebec Harbor Commission had been dismissed during the last few days. He wanted to know if the government proposed to continue dismissal of employees of this commission and thus accentuate unemployment.

Premier Bennett replied that he judged from the tone of the remark of the member he was not quite serious.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Installation of loud speakers — one near the speaker's chair, one close to the desk of the Prime Minister and a third near the seat of the Opposition leader—was suggested in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The suggestion was made by Dr. Peter McMillan, Conservative, Muskoka, Ont., as a means by which all members of the chamber might hear every word these leaders utter in the Commons.

Premier R. B. Bennett answered that the acoustic properties of the chamber had been under consideration by successive governments. He would pass the suggestion on.

FISKE SPEAKS
A lively tilt took place between Premier Bennett and Sir Eugene Fiske, Liberal, Winnipeg, when the latter rose on a question of privilege to reiterate a statement he had made yesterday, the accuracy of which had been questioned by the Premier. Sir Eugene said Mr. Bennett had denied detailed information had been submitted to the house last session in connection with money voted for the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Bennett said there was nothing in the official report of the proceedings of the House to show this. Sir Eugene wanted then to read from the information he said had been laid before the committee, but was drowned out by shouts from the Conservatives. He insisted it was his privilege and the speaker ruled he had stated his point and the Prime Minister replied.

A Sir Eugene took his seat Mr. Bennett remarked, "perhaps Mr. Speaker will now understand the incident that took place the other day."

The impression was that he was referring to blows exchanged between Sir Eugene and Pierre Cagnin, chief Liberal whip, in a dispute over the seat assigned to Sir Eugene.

ST. LAWRENCE NOTES PUBLIC NEXT MONDAY

Premier Bennett Then to Table in Commons Correspondence With the U.S.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Notes exchanged between the governments of Canada and the United States recently on the question of the development of the St. Lawrence waterway will be laid on the table of the House of Commons Monday.

Premier Bennett announced this today. The publication of the correspondence in this way is being done with the acquiescence of the United States Government.

Mr. Bennett said a communication had been received from Washington on the question and a reply had been sent. He was replying to a question addressed to him yesterday by Mr. W. J. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition.

HUNDRED MEN HUNT RANCHER AFTER MURDER

Provincial Police Direct Search in Chilcotin, B.C., District for C. Spencer

W. H. Stoddard, Badly Wounded, Stayed With E. Smith Till He Died

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 12.—In the remote Chilcotin country of British Columbia, 300 miles north of Vancouver, a hundred men are hunting down a millionaire ranch owner, Cezema Spencer, who is declared on Wednesday to have turned killer. Believed to have gone insane, Spencer is stated to have shot and killed Edward Smith, clerk of the ranch, and seriously wounded W. H. Stoddard, manager. It is possible Spencer killed himself afterwards as he had previously hinted at suicide.

Stoddard is revealed as the hero of the affair. With his arm so badly wounded it had afterwards to be amputated, he made a tour of the ranch with his shoe laces and stayed with Smith for an hour until he died, writing out a will for him during that period.

NO QUARREL REPORTED
The shooting was done at noon on Wednesday. There was really no quarrel. Spencer had threatened the men on his place more than once, but from their long happy associations with him they put up with him, although the rancher had been acting strangely for months. On Wednesday he took Stoddard and Smith to the Nine-mile ranch, sometimes called Deer Creek Ranch. When they arrived he told

DONCASTER CUP WON BY BROWN JACK

Doncaster, Eng., Sept. 12.—A six-year-old brown gelding to-day won the Doncaster Cup for three-year-olds and upwards when Capt. H. A. Werne's brown Jack galloped home five lengths ahead of his nearest rival, Empire Builder. Major Macdonald's four-year-old by the famous sire, Son-in-law, out of Fourfold, Annis, owned by Lord Roseberry and by Lemberg out of Lady Leman, came third, following the Builder by two lengths. Annis is a three-year-old.

The winner paid 11 to 10; Empire Builder, 11 to 2; and Annis, 2 to 1. Five ran in the race.

The Doncaster Cup is a race of two miles and a quarter. It includes the plate of 1,200 sovereigns, or almost $6,000, and a cup valued at 200 sovereigns, or nearly $1,000. Mares and geldings get a special weight allowance and three-year-olds and upwards are eligible.

Tom Harry Dies in Duncan Hospital After Auto Accident

Duncan, Sept. 12.—Tom Harry, a Cowichan Indian, died last night from injuries received when a touring car in which he was riding from Chemainus, was struck by a northbound freight train yesterday afternoon.

Harry and another Cowichan Indian named Lewis were on their way home after loading a boat at Chemainus. Both men were longshoremen. On approaching the crossing Lewis apparently seeing danger, jumped out. Tom Harry evidently drove on, and the train struck the car in the centre, carried it about twenty-five feet and lifted it to one side of the track. Harry received severe injuries, and was rushed to Duncan Hospital in an ambulance. He died three hours later.

New Zealand Hopes To Increase Its Exports To Canada, States Premier

Rt. Hon. G. W. Forbes Given Warm Welcome When He Addresses Vancouver Canadian Club

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Sept. 12.—Need of mutual faith in commerce, particularly between members of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and the valuelessness of one-sided trade were emphasized by Rt. Hon. George W. Forbes, Prime Minister of New Zealand, in the course of his first public speech in Canada, made to-day before the Vancouver Canadian Club.

While Premier Forbes, who is on his way to the Imperial Conference in London, did not draw attention specifically to the difference in trade balance between Canada and New Zealand, he quoted the figures which tell the story.

He reminded his hearers, whose tribute to him was their presence in large numbers and their hearty reception when he rose to speak, that Canada's exports to New Zealand had increased from less than $12,000,000 in 1926 to more than $23,000,000 in 1929, while New Zealand's trade to Canada had increased from $6,000,000 to $16,000,000 during the same period.

"We have great hopes this increase in trade will continue. However, there has been a change in your fiscal policy which may affect the trade between you and us," he said.

"We had hoped that by sending you large supplies of butter we might build up that balance which we buy from you."

"We feel there must be faith in order to have truly successful trade. We believe one-sided trade is valueless in the long run. We in New Zealand (Concluded on Page 19)

Tragedy Ends Two Months' Married Life of Couple in Toronto

Mother of Slain Young Woman Says Constable Intoxicated When He Did Shooting

Canadian Press
Toronto, Sept. 12.—Angered when his bride of two months ordered him out of her parents' house, Simon McIntosh, aged thirty, Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable, shot his wife Helen, aged twenty-three, with his service revolver, to-day. Walking to the rear of the house, he turned the gun on himself and died instantly.

Mrs. McIntosh died on arrival at a hospital, where she was removed by the police.

Mrs. McIntosh was found lying on the living room floor by her mother, who heard the shots but was upstairs at the time of the shooting. The body of McIntosh was found in the kitchen.

DECLARED INTOXICATED
From the incoherent story related by Mrs. Hustler, mother of the slain young woman, police gathered that her son-in-law was intoxicated when he came home this morning after being out all night.

McIntosh was of Scottish birth and is understood to have been with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for two years.

Her daughter, Mrs. Hustler stated, had complained of his conduct and mentioned divorcing him. The young couple, as far as it could be learned, (Concluded on Page 19)

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 12.—Sanchez Alorda, Minister of the Interior, to-day informed the Associated Press that former President Igrigoyen was under arrest on board the cruiser Belgrano and had not been permitted to leave Argentine jurisdiction.

The Interior Minister interviewed by the correspondent, denied reports Igrigoyen would be transferred to a steamer from the Belgrano or landed at Montevideo, Uruguay.

The Minister said the cruiser still was in Argentine waters, about two hours from La Plata, awaiting orders.

HERTZOG IS FOR CUT IN ARMAMENTS

South African Premier Addresses League Assembly at Geneva

Supports Peace Views of Borden and Henderson; Says Treaty Needed

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Geneva, Sept. 12.—General H. H. Hertzog, Prime Minister of South Africa, to-day added his voice and in no uncertain terms, to the peace plea made yesterday by Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, Canada's delegate, and Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Britain's foreign Secretary, before the League of Nations Assembly.

General Hertzog fully agreed with the British position that ratification of a general arbitration treaty and the financial guarantees involved should be conditional on acceptance of a general disarmament treaty.

MOBE PROOF NEEDED
"Europe," declared the South African Prime Minister, "has too little to bear witness to its will to peace."

South Africa, in its anxiety, was beginning to ask Europe: "How much more are you going to add to your burden of armaments?" When the question was put, said General Hertzog, Europe would undoubtedly be embarrassed, not knowing what answer to make.

WORK OF LAWYERS
General Hertzog thought questions concerning mandates should be left largely to lawyers, as the League Assembly should get along with the major work of promoting peace.

MINORITIES QUESTION
The League Assembly to-day heard Germany bring up the question of the protection of minorities, a matter which, it is generally thought, means in German minds, the Germans of the Italian Tyrol and those living in Alsace-Lorraine. The German resolution was submitted by the Assembly to the political committee, of which Sir Robert Borden is chairman.

SUIT FOR $124,150
Montreal, Sept. 12.—Trial of a charge against the Jewish Colonization Association, a defrauded Wolf Horn of land he had secured in Saskatchewan, is proceeding here. Horn claims $124,150 damages in connection with his dealings with the association's agents at Estevan, Sask., and in the Jewish colony of Sonnenfeld.

After further argument pro and con, Tom Moore, president, outlined the steps already taken by the executive council along these lines, and the resolution was defeated.

HEARING END
Regina, Sept. 12.—Faced with more than fifty resolutions, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada opened to-day's session of its annual convention early to-day in an effort to clean up the remaining business and adjourn this evening instead of to-morrow.

While to-day's resolutions were numerous, they were not expected to cause any controversy, being of a more or less minor character.

Several measures dealing with the tariff and economic policy of the Congress were listed, to be followed by a discussion on the Industrial Disputes Act, Mothers' Allowance and Maternity Benefits, Workmen's Compensation Act, old age pensions, cost of living and housing, and other matters of like nature.

ROMANTIC PAIR REACH VICTORIA ON WORLD TOUR

Capt. F. Francis of Guards, Who Resigned Commission to Marry, Here With Bride

When Capt. F. Francis of the Guards Regiment resigned his commission to marry Miss Sunny Jarman, petite London actress, a furor was created in English society circles.

The famous British Guards will not tolerate the marriage of its officers to actresses.

To Capt. Francis it seemed ridiculous that a military organization should be permitted to interfere with such a personal matter and, being a wealthy man, he promptly resigned his commission in order to be free to marry the girl of his choice.

London talked about the wedding for weeks, as it was a most brilliant affair and the circumstances leading to the happy union were exceptional.

Unconcerned by the fuss that was made over their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Francis are on a world honeymoon tour. They arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon aboard the motor liner Aorangi from Australia.

Accompanying them is Mrs. Francis's mother, Mrs. L. Jarman.

After a short stay in Canada Mr. and Mrs. Francis will return to London. The romantic halo that surrounded the couple attracted to them a lot of attention on the voyage.

Country Demands Full Information On Outlays For Works, States King

Liberal Leader Scores Premier Bennett for Suggesting There is Obstruction While Commons Debates Conservatives' $20,000,000 Fund Plan

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—When the members of the House of Commons assembled this afternoon they again had a heavy programme before them. With consideration of second reading of the Government bill to provide $20,000,000 for unemployment relief based on a resolution to that effect passed late yesterday evening as its first stage. It was expected the House would turn to a resolution recommending consideration of the Customs Act. If sufficient progress should be made in that connection, it was said, the Government's proposed tariff changes might come before the House.

Each of the three measures forms a part of the Government's scheme to reduce unemployment in Canada. After a day-long debate yesterday, the resolution recommending the introduction of a bill to provide the $20,000,000 for unemployment relief was passed without a division. The end came shortly after 11 p.m. and climaxed a day complete with surprises and high lights.

During his expression of views on the $20,000,000 resolution, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie-King, Liberal leader, replied in forceful terms to a remark made by Premier Bennett that he was "amazed" the House should have been kept so long discussing the motion. Mr. King resisted the insinuation he had in the remarks of the Prime Minister that there had been any obstruction in connection with the debate. Every question asked by members of the Liberal opposition had been for the genuine purpose of obtaining information. He declared one reason why so much time had been consumed on the resolution during the day was that the Prime Minister "had said for an hour without answering questions."

Mr. King referred to the expenditures of the Government of Ontario on roads prior to the recent Federal general election as an instance of inferior use of public funds. Such instances prompted the opposition to inquire very carefully into the expenditures levied on the handling over of large amounts to the provinces.

Premier Bennett gave it as his opinion the people of Canada were guaranteed against abuse in the expenditure of the fund because of two reasons. One was the fact that the provinces and the municipalities would place their requests and their credit ratings with the Federal authorities in any construction programme initiated under the scheme. Thus, those who had primary responsibility for unemployment relief under the constitution must set the requirements. Secondly, the Federal Government must account to parliament for all the money expended from the fund.

MUST GIVE STATEMENT
The bill as given first reading later in the evening required that a statement of how the money had been spent must be presented within fifteen days of the opening of the next session. It was "Toryism," declared Hon. Ernest LaPointe, for the Government to expect the House to vote money without furnishing details of the proposed expenditure.

NEW BRUNSWICK DISCUSSION
Hon. F. J. Venoit, former Postmaster-General, stirred up some sparks when he charged that the Provincial Government of New Brunswick had employed Conservatives on road work in the constituency of Northumberland prior to the last Federal election, and that Liberals had not been given an opportunity to obtain this employment. He produced a letter he said had been written by Premier Baxter stating that "those who vote for Mr. McLeod will receive favorable consideration." He objected to handing over money to a Provincial Government such as that which held the reign in New Brunswick.

There were requests that Mr. Venoit table the letter, or at least reveal the name of its recipient, which he declined to do. He said, however, that if Premier Baxter denied its accuracy he intended to publish it in full.

Alberta and British Columbia coal in Canada. The Prime Minister stated, subscriptions given in connection with the transportation of Canadian coal had lapsed. Negotiations, however, were under way for the purpose of ensuring the utilization of Canadian coal. J. A. Denis, Liberal, St. Denis, Que., speaking in French, urged the province of Quebec and the city of Montreal should get a fair share of the $20,000,000. He said that after all the money spent on contracts during the World War, Montreal should now get some money for unemployment.

"I do not think the honorable member should bring into this debate something that took place during the war," said Hon. A. Durand, Minister of Marine. The chairman ruled the discussion out of order.

A. E. Munn, Liberal, North Vancouver, urged the Government to consider the immediate completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in British Columbia in connection with the unemployment relief programme.

Charges that public money had been used for political purposes in Northern Ontario during the recent election campaign were made by J. A. Bradette, Liberal, Temiskaming North. Mr. Bradette urged the Prime Minister to drop from his platform a proposed ban on the export of pulpwood. This, he said, would be a hardship on settlers in the north who were dependent on the sale of pulp for a livelihood. The United States was their only market. He held Conservative campaign speeches in this connection responsible for the purchase of a quantity of Russian pulpwood by United States paper manufacturers.

OUTLAYS IN NORTHERN ONTARIO
Explaining the administration of Northern Ontario which, he said, was controlled by the northern development branch of the Provincial Government, Dr. J. R. Murty, Liberal, Nipissing, said $50,000,000 was spent annually in northern Ontario by that body, but no one knew just how the money actually was disbursed.

BENNETT SPEAKS
Judging by the speeches of the Liberal members, said Premier Bennett, the unemployment condition was not serious. Most of the time during the evening had been taken up with a discussion of the affairs of the province of Ontario. He did not consider it competent for the House of Commons to cast aspersions on the electorate of Ontario. There was real evidence, said the Premier, that the situation was serious, and, if so, the House should "back, and act promptly." He read a telegram from the Premier of Alberta, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, saying serious conditions were anticipated in that province this winter and declared direct relief for unemployment would be necessary in some districts. Premier Brownlee urged joint contributions to relief by the Federal, provincial and municipal authorities. The Premier read a telegram from the Premier of C.N.R. Works.

The Prime Minister recalled a statement by Sir Henry Thornton that out of appropriations being made for the C.N.R. certain expenditures might be switched from one place to another for the welfare of the enterprise. It was impossible to give more details than he had given. "There we have a crisis," the Prime Minister declared, "and the legislation which we have prepared is broad, general, elastic and flexible."

The money, the Prime Minister proceeded, was to be spent in two ways, first, to afford employment; and, secondly, relief where work could not be found. It was impossible to have a fixed rule as to the maximum amount of assistance which would be given, he said, and there must be some elasticity.

UNORGANIZED LABOR
Dr. Peter McGibbon, Conservative, Huron, Ont., asked special consideration be given to men belonging to unorganized labor. They were more entitled to aid than men who were members of labor unions, inasmuch as unemployment assistance was provided for the latter.

Dr. McGibbon believed dumping laws should be applied against timber and products of the forest coming into Canada. A survey of unemployed should be made in the north, he believed, particularly among the lumbering men. The exact number of these out of work was difficult to determine because they were not organized labor.

SURVEY INCOMPLETE
Henri Bourassa, Independent, Labelle, Que., agreed. Mr. Bourassa said the survey which had led the government to estimate the number of unemployed in Canada at 112,000 was incomplete. It had not taken into consideration farming or lumbering districts, but only municipalities of 10,000 population or over. He believed the total for Canada might reach 225,000 if these sections of the country were surveyed.

FAIR WAGES
Hon. Peter Heenan, Liberal, Kenora, Ont., thought provision for fair wages should be made in any grants made by the government.

Premier Bennett closed with a plea for the legislation on humanitarian grounds. "This is not a question of politics," he said. "Surely it is something that transcends politics." The House was being asked to deal with "human suffering."

Mr. King replied that the government had no "monopoly of human suffering." The opposition members, he declared, were just as keenly interested in its alleviation as were those on the government side.

Another Champion Falls Before Furious Attack of McLarnin

THE SPORTS MIRROR

COMING up from the ruck with a tremendous rush, the ball team known as the St. Louis Cardinals has wrought consternation in the National League pennant race. At the time of writing the Cards were in a virtual tie with Brooklyn for second place, only one and a half games behind the league leading Chicago Cubs. Baseball fans, who for the last few months have been reading of the three-cornered pennant race in the older circuit, pick up the papers these days and wonder what had happened. And who are these Cardinals?

The Cards are a strange ball team led by old Garry Street, the gent who blocked Walter Johnson's passes for years and years. In the spring, down south, the sports writers likened Street's team to a sort of old man's home team. Street has made the old cranks step around. To start with he established Gabby Street as boss, spelled all the way with capitals. Gabby treats friend and foe alike. He is stern, but he gives each and every player a fair shake.

Well, there's Frankie Frisch, second and third baseman. Sam Breadon got him from the New York Giants in the deal for Rogers Hornsby after the 1926 season. Then there's "Sparky" Adams, second baseman and utility infielder. The Chicago Cubs had him for a long time and sent him to Pittsburgh. St. Louis bought him last November.

Now we come to Andy High, another infielder. He played four years with Brooklyn. Wilbert Robinson sent him to the Boston Braves for the waiver price. He played with Boston a couple of seasons. Thence to the Cards. It seems they all go to St. Louis sooner or later.

One of the outfielders is a young man named George Fisher. Mike Gonzales would describe him, "Good hit. No field." Knocks baseballs to pieces and catches balls on the spine. McGraw of the New York Giants sent him to the Cards in the spring for Clarence Mitchell.

Behind the bat? Well, there's Jimmy Watson. Caught for the Philadelphia Nationals for six heart-rending years. Finally Mr. Baker sent him to the Cards for Homer Peel and Virgil Davis.

Pitchers? They have Bureliah Grimes, who has been shunted all over the National League in his years and years of big league experience. They have Clint Rheim, sent up and down from the minors and the majors so rapidly and so often that he never is quite sure whether he was to pitch tomorrow in Houston, Rochester or Cincinnati.

Of course, there are several people on the team who have been confirmed Cardinals, practically all of their lives, such as Douthett, Hefner, Haines and Sunny Jim Bottomley. But the others are for the most part men who have been bumped this way and that, finally to land in Branch Rickey's Haven for Harassed Ivory.

Around stars such as Charlie Gehrert, Frankie Frisch and Jim Bottomley, wise old Gabby Street has ranged a group of journeymen ball players who may not be going any place in particular, but who will have something to say about who's going.

Question arises as to the actual value of psychology in sport. Percy Williams certainly seems to think it has a lot to do with who crosses the line first.

Two years ago, when he met Frankie Wykoff and Eddie Tolan in Vancouver, he demonstrated just how much he thought of creating an impression. But nine out of ten of the people who watched him absolutely missed his point.

Wykoff was waiting at the starting line with his monkey suit stripped off. Percy wandered onto the track with his sweat shirt and pants on. He dug his holes and got down for his run out, looking easily along the track for a few yards. He tried his slow start while Wykoff watched him out of the corner of his eye.

And when he was sure the blond speedster was concentrating on him, Williams stripped off his monkey suit, got down in his holes and shot out of them like a scared rabbit, hitting his stride immediately.

The unhappy Wykoff, standing cheering and waiting, was watching him intensely. When he saw that burst of speed on Williams' quick start, his eyes bulged out and turning to his trainer he said: "Holy smoke, did you see that?"

It was quite fair and above-board, but it rather offends the dignity of the big blond, who only gained a third place in the event.

Deadly Left Hook Starts Singer On Road To Knockout

After Outboxing and Outslugging Vancouver Welterweight for Two Rounds, Jewish Lightweight Champion Is a Victim of Dynamite Carried in Irish Lad's Two Fists; Rises in Third After Going Down for Count of Nine, But Straight Overhand Right Puts Him to Canvas for Count; $175,000 Gate at Yankee Stadium.

New York, Sept. 12.—With little respect for the fight royalty, Jimmy McLarnin, a titleless two-fisted Irish youth from Vancouver, B.C., is piling up some sort of a record for whipping champions in the world of fisticuffs.

During the course of a brief but a sensationally thorough campaign in every division from the flyweights to the welters, twenty-three-year-old Jimmy has bowled over exactly seven champions, either before or during their reign, but never has he won a championship, all of his victories being overweight affairs.

POLO STARS COMPETE IN OPEN EVENT

Members of International Teams Scattered Among Various Contending Fours

Tommy Hitchcock Leads the Greentree Four; Capt. Roark Plays for Champions

New York, Sept. 12.—The U.S. rules supreme in the polo world, possessor of the international cup for at least three more years, but the war is not yet over for the galloping season of 1930. All four of the U.S. horsemen, led to victory by Capt. Tommy Hitchcock, as well as the gallant but defeated British quartet, will take part in the U.S. open championship tournament, starting this Saturday at Meadowbrook.

The allegiance as well as the positions of the internationalists are scattered, but the opening match promises interesting rivalry, with Hitchcock leading the Greentree four against a combination known as Templeton and led by Lewis Lacey, Anglo-Argentine, who was the star of the British invasion.

Lacey, riding No. 3, will have a strong support, including the Guest brothers, Raymond and Winston, at No. 1 and No. 2, respectively; Lieut. Humphrey Guinness, playing back, Hitchcock, also playing No. 3, will have Pete Bostwick at No. 1, Elmer Boesche Jr. and No. 2 and John Hay (Jock) Whitney playing back.

Ernie Pedley, American scoring ace, will play No. 3 on Laddie Sanford's Hurricane, winners of the 1929 tournament; Capt. C. T. I. (Pat) Roark will ride at No. 3 and Bobby Strawbridge will play back on this combination.

The British international pony string, number eighty-four mounts, will play in the opening match, Long Island, this morning.

Saturday thirty-five of the American ponies will be on public sale.

TILDEN AND YOUNGSTERS GAIN FINALS

Defending U.S. Singles Champion Only Veteran Remaining in Running

Frank Shields, Sidney Wood and Giant Doge Other Semi-finalists

By Ted Voshburg, Associated Press Sports Writer
Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 12.—Two New York youngsters still in their teens, shared the semi-final round of the national tennis championship to-day with the one and only William T. Tilden II and the strapping young California giant, Johnny Doe.

Frank Shields and Sidney B. Wood, nineteen and eighteen respectively, found themselves face to face in one of the semi-finals, while in the other were Tilden and Doe. In five hard sets in the identical round of last year's championship, Tilden beat Doe, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

The downfall of Frank Hunter at the hands of Doe left Big Bill entirely surrounded by rising members of the younger tennis generation and marked the elimination of the man who opposed Big Bill in the final round last year. Doe's victory was scored at 11-13, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Champion number seven fell before the Irishman's cannonading yesterday evening, in the Yankee stadium battle pit, when Al Singer, baby king of the lightweights, followed in the ways of Pancho Villa, Fidel La Barra, Kid Kaplan, Jackie Fields, Young Jack Thompson and Sammy Mandell. Singer took the count of ten in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout, lying face down in a ring surrounded by nearly 35,000 of the "faithful," who paid in the neighborhood of $175,000 to see the fray.

Singer sought the fight with Jimmy, who is the welterweight titleholder in everything but name, but the recent conqueror of Sammy Mandell was no match for the Irish fistic, once they found their range. For two rounds Singer stayed out in front, out-boxing and out-slugging McLarnin, beating him to the punch with nice timing, befuddling him with his change of boxing pace.

The third round, however, told a different story. There was no indication that Jimmy packed a stick of dynamite in those two small but tough fists as the round opened. Singer went about his business of alternating boxing and slugging, his plan of battle in the first two rounds, but suddenly the Jewish champion ran into a terrific left hook to the head.

The blow spelled finish for the ruler of the lightweights. Quick to take advantage of the opening, McLarnin rushed to the attack, swinging a volley of rights and lefts to Singer's chin. Young Al took just four blows and his knees buckled. He went down on his back, rolled over on his face and kicked his feet in an effort to rise.

At the count of nine, he was back in the middle of the ring, wobbling, but gone. McLarnin, thinking he had won, turned his cartwheel of victory, coming up to receive a glancing blow from the weakened Singer. Jimmy taking one step backwards, stood flat-footed, carefully measured his opponent and then let loose with a straight overhand right—a blow that crushed the hopes of the lightweight champion to gain added prestige by going out of his class.

The fight, round for round, follows:

ROUND ONE
Singer rushed in close as McLarnin missed a left hook and they clawed to the body, sparring carefully. Singer found an opening for a hard uppercut, took a sharp left hook to the chin. McLarnin missed a hard right to the jaw by just a whisker and Singer sailed into him with both fists flying furiously. He smashed a half-dozen lefts and rights into the Irishman's jaw and Jimmy was hurt. McLarnin held for a second and then clipped Singer with a fierce left hook on the chin. Al fought back wildly and they exchanged solid blows to the head in mid-ring. McLarnin belted him with left hooks to the body and another to the chin that brought Singer to a halt. Al poked out his left and delivered a beautiful right into McLarnin's head as they slammed and shook under mighty punches. The crowd cheered gleefully. The bell sounded them in a furious exchange at the ropes.

ROUND TWO
Both were careful and boxed cautiously until McLarnin forced an opening for a left hook to the head. Singer tipped, short right to the chin and McLarnin missed two full shots. Both thudded some left hooks to the head in a wild exchange that set the crowd roaring. Singer slipped in a straight right to the temple and danced away from Jimmy's counter. Al outboxed the cagey welterweight, stabbing him in the eyes with three long lefts. A left seemed to keep McLarnin off balance and he was slow and wild with counters. Gaining confidence, Al swapped punches freely and they slugged their way along the ropes. Singer was boxing beautifully, fighting in spurts that drew the cheers of the crowd. He shot McLarnin's head back with a left at the bell.

ROUND THREE
They posed in mid-ring, both respectful of each other's punching power. Singer flashed home a hard right to the head, but Jimmy, boxed in close and mauled his body. A left hook to the head shook Singer, but he jabbed McLarnin out of following his advantage and fell into a clinch. Singer drove a left hook deep into McLarnin's body, but ran into Jimmy's left hook and reeled back. Singer went down under right to the chin, but came up at the count of nine. McLarnin smashed him to the floor again for a count of ten and a knockout.

Classy Field To Face Barrier In Belmont Futurity

Cream of Two-year-olds in United States Will Go After Purse of Over $100,000 at New York Track Tomorrow; Jamestown Will Be Favorite in View of Splendid Performances at Saratoga; Two Flashy Fillies, Baby Kenny and Risque, Must Be Figured; Inco Out With Wrenched Ankle.

By ORLO ROBERTSON, Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Sept. 12.—America's richest turf award dangled in front of nearly a score of the country's best juveniles to-day as they went through the final stages of preparation for the forty-first running of the futurity at Belmont Park to-morrow.

Although the winner's share of the purse probably will not equal the $105,730 won by Harry Payne Whitney's Whicome last year, it is sure to exceed $100,000, several thousand dollars above the amount paid in any other race on the American continent this year. Seventeen youngsters battled down the Widener straightaway in 1929 while the field this year is expected to equal, and perhaps surpass that number.

With Griffin Watkins's Inco, brilliant son of Sir Gallahad III and ranking fourth for two-year-olds in honors, definitely out, a contest loomed between George D. Widener's Jamestown, Harry Payne Whitney's Epitaph and Gifford A. Cochran's Epitaph, each of which will pack 130 pounds. Inco was shipped here especially for the Belmont feature, but a wrenched ankle has forced his retirement for the remainder of the season.

On the basis of the pre-race betting, Jamestown probably will face the barrier the favorite at odds of 13 to 5 or even shorter. The big son of St. James swept through all of the Saratoga two-year-olds prizes with the exception of the Hopeful, in which he was beaten by Epitaph, and on Wednesday turned the futurity course in 1:26, an impressive trial.

CLOCKS FAST TIME
Equipage, which also has given evidence he can carry weight, covered the seven-eighths in 1:29 3-8, the first six furlongs in 1:15 2-5, exactly the same as Jamestown's six furlong time. The Whitney ace was beaten by a nose in the Champagne last Saturday, but he was conceding lumps of weight to his mate, the winner, and was further handicapped by a seventeen-minute delay at the post.

HUNTERS TO OPEN SEASON ON SATURDAY

Hundreds Will Go Into Woods in Quest of Buck Deer and Blue Grouse

Asked to Observe Few Simple Rules to Prevent Serious Accidents

To-morrow ushers in the hunting season for deer and blue grouse. By all accounts deer are plentiful, although the forest fires have wrought havoc among the grouse. An unusually large number of licences have been taken out, from which it would appear that hunting retains all its popularity. This is hardly surprising when one reflects upon the zest which attaches to even the briefest of hunting trips; and now that the automobile has become a commonplace, what was formerly in the nature of an expedition is now merely a day's outing.

Unfortunately, though, year after year with painful regularity the hunting season brings its crop of fatal accidents, to cast their gloom over the community and darken homes and lives with sorrow and remorse. Last year, it will be remembered, there were five.

For most hunting accidents there is no reason, practically all of them being due to carelessness; and there is no form of carelessness more criminal than carelessness with a loaded gun. It is not always the novice who is guilty.

RISQUE. Baby Kenny had a seven furlong trial Wednesday and stepped along in 1:29, well in hand. Risque, with two stakes already to her credit, will attempt to repeat for Mrs. Herta, who won the 1929 Renewal with Anita Peabody. Because of their state victories, Baby Kenny and Risque will carry 124 and 127 pounds respectively, much more than has been assigned to many of the colts.

guilty. "Familiarity breeds contempt," and all too often the experienced hunter neglects to practice the very precautions which often he has preached. The novice looks to experience for guidance and example, and it devolves the more upon the older hand to watch his actions and mind his step.

OBSERVE SIMPLE RULES
It hunters would observe the few simple rules, take the ordinary precautions which commonsense should indicate, there would be fewer tragic home-comings and sad homes, and the hunting public would bear a friendlier attitude.

Learn how to shoot, by all means, and learn how to avoid shooting by accident.

Never, under any circumstances, shoot if there is a vestige of doubt as to the object. Most of the fatalities which mar the hunting season are caused by taking a chance. Don't shoot until you're sure. Be positive before you press the trigger.

Never point a gun, loaded or not, at any person. Don't load sooner than is necessary, and never leave a loaded gun where it can fall into irresponsible hands. While your gun is loaded, never stand it up or lay it down, and always load your gun through a fence barrel first.

Probably these warnings are superfluous to the majority, but if one life is saved through giving them publicity they are more than justified.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL
Title Game To Be Played To-morrow

In an attempt to win the British Columbia women's softball championship from the Connaughts, Vancouver title holders, Astoria, city champions, will clash with the Mainlanders in a sudden death game at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The Vancouver girls last year won the title from the Victoria Harmony squad and appear to be a nicely organized team this year. The Astoria have a strong nine.

Barney Barnswell will umpire the game.

JOKERS PRACTICE

Jokers Senior Football Club will hold a practice to-morrow afternoon at the Central Park at 2:30 o'clock. All of last year's players are asked to attend.

While the "A" teams are playing at Oak Bay, the "B" sides will clash at Colwood, but only the result of the "A" team matches decided which club will hold the trophy.

At Oak Bay, fourball matches will be played in the morning and singles in the afternoon. Two points will be scored by the winners of the fourballs and one point by the winners of the singles. The same procedure will be the order at Colwood.

Phil Taylor Is Leading In the B.C. Open Golf

Shoots 70 and 69 To Lead Field By Two-stroke Margin

Victoria Professional, Who Is Defending Champion, Displays Fine Golf in First Half of Seventy-two-hole Competition at Point Grey Course; Dave Black, Shaughnessy, in Second Place With 141; Jack Fraser, Vancouver, Leads Amateurs With 142.

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—Shooting the afternoon round in 69—two under par—Phil Taylor, professional at the Victoria Golf Club, Oak Bay, overhauled Dave Black of Shaughnessy and at the end of the half-way mark in the British Columbia open golf championship was leading Black by two strokes and Harry Winder of University and Don Sutherland of Vancouver by three strokes. Jack Fraser of Shaughnessy was right up among the leaders with a net 142, winning the day's prize for low gross among the amateurs, while H. E. Woodland, ten-handicap man from Point Grey, created somewhat of a surprise by winning the low net, his 152, less handicap, giving him a net 132. The competition is being played at the Point Grey links where the players found fairways and greens in excellent shape.

Helene Madison Passed Through City Yesterday

Record smashing Helene Madison, Seattle's favored young mermaid, passed through Victoria yesterday evening on her way home from the San Francisco Far Western swimming meet aboard the steamship Emma Alexander. In the city for only a few hours, Miss Madison, who has added still further laurels to her collection during the Golden Gate competitions, paid a short visit to the Crystal Gardens before proceeding around the town.

First gaining notice three years ago in the United States national junior championships, Helene is now ranked as the women's freestyle champion of the United States and has more records to her credit than any one else in the game at the present time.

Cards and Robins Slice Chicago's Lead To Half Game

Second-place Teams in National League Continue Great Spurt by Scoring Victories Over New York Giants and Cubs; Dazzy Vance Holds Cubs to Five Hits and Strikes Out Thirteen as Brooklyn Makes Clean Sweep of Series; Hafey's Home Run Beats Giants; Idle Athletics Gain Half a Game.

The Chicago Cubs and New York Giants, who looked like the only important entries in the National League pennant race so long ago, now seem to have become stationary as the mile posts, while the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Robins are doing all the racing.

Once more St. Louis and Brooklyn were triumphant yesterday and placed themselves only a half game behind the league leaders, the Cubs. The Robins performed an almost unprecedented feat of making a clean sweep of their three-game series with Chicago as Dazzy Vance turned in a third successive five-hits performance to give Brooklyn a 2 to 1 victory, while the Cards with Chick Hafey's first-inning home run as the deciding factor, again defeated the Giants, 5 to 4.

As the Cubs move on to-day to the safer regions of Philadelphia, and the Giants and Cards remain in New York for a final clash, the race shapes up this way:

	W.	L.	Pct.	Games Behind
Chicago	80	59	.573	15
St. Louis	79	59	.571	16
Brooklyn	80	60	.571	14
New York	77	63	.554	15

The rugged eight-sleeve of Dazzy Vance and the big bat of Glenn Wright gave the Cubs their first run of the series, but Wright had beaten Wilson at his own game. In the first inning he smashed the ball into the left field bleachers after Herman had walked to give the Robins a head start that Chicago never overcame.

It took Hack Wilson's forty-eighth home run of the season, a clout over the right field wall in the seventh inning, to give the Cubs their first run of the series, but Wright had beaten Wilson at his own game. In the first inning he smashed the ball into the left field bleachers after Herman had walked to give the Robins a head start that Chicago never overcame.

Southpaw Bill Walker of the Giants was the victim of a similar wrong guess. After Adams had started and Fritch had walked in the opening inning, Walker tossed the wrong ball to Hafey and watched it sail into the upper tier of stands in left field for a homer. The Giants overcame that lead in the fifth inning, and made another comeback in the seventh, but they failed in their third attempt after the Cards had scored their fifth run, leaving the bases filled when the game ended.

Pittsburgh Pirates, not yet entirely out of the running, placed themselves only 7½ games behind first place by winning a tight game from the Boston Braves, 5 to 3, while the humble Phillies made it a clean sweep against Cincinnati by slugging out a final 15 to 7 victory.

FORMER FISH PEDDLER PUTS LOMSKI AWAY

First Time Lomski Has Ever Taken Count; Petrolle Scores K.O. in Fifth

King Levinsky, Latest Light Heavyweight Sensational, Decisions Canzoneri

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Up from Chicago's ghetto has come an ex-fish peddler named King Levinsky, who bears definite signs of getting somewhere as a light heavyweight fighter. The king, idol of the west side, abandoned his fish cart for the ring a year ago. Yesterday evening he made a deep bow in big league competition by knocking out Leo Lomski, the one-time assassin from Aberdeen, Wash. The knockout came in the fifth round of the first ten-rounder on the Stadium's benefit card for little Patricia Harmon, daughter of the late Paddy Harmon, Stadium-builder, who was penniless at the time of his tragic death two months ago.

Lomski, who never before had been knocked out, and who until recently was ranged among the most prominent light heavyweight challengers, took a terrific beating before going down for the full count in the fifth. He was knocked down six times in the first round, hit the floor three times in the fifth the last time landing flat on his back.

STEALS THE SHOW
The bout was listed as the semi-final to a ten-rounder between Billy Petrolle, the comeback "Fargo Express," and Tony Canzoneri, challenger for the lightweight title, but it completely stole the show. Petrolle, who came out of retirement after a nine-months' layoff, and scrambled up the lightweight situation by gaining a referee's decision over Canzoneri after ten mauling rounds. Canzoneri, who is scheduled to meet Al Singer, the titleholder, in New York next month did not fare as well, however, as Singer, who was knocked out in New York by Jimmy McLarnin in the third round.

Petrolle continually forged forward, belting the New York Italian with left hooks to the head and body, and built up a margin in six of the ten rounds. He opened an old cut over Tony's right eye in the third round and knocked off the patch in each frame, thereafter.

The memory of the fight trade was not quite as good as Paddy Harmon's used to be at Christmas time when he aided thousands of west side folk, but a sale of approximately $40,000 left a profit of $10,000 for Patricia, the Stadium builder's four-year-old daughter.

Charge Against Miniature Course Owner Withdrawn
Vancouver, Sept. 12.—Charges of violating the Lord's Day Act, laid against the Wee McGregor Golf Course, corner of Howe and Smythe Streets, were withdrawn in police court yesterday afternoon when the case was called for hearing.

R. P. Stockton, counsel for the defence, declared that his clients will give an undertaking not to operate the course as a business enterprise on Sunday. City Prosecutor Oscar Orr informed the court that he had not sufficient evidence to bring a conviction and had planned to lay a new charge, so that he was agreeable to a withdrawal.

C. H. Carter, charged as proprietor of Happyland, Hastings Park, was remanded for a week on the charge of violating the Lord's Day Act.

GLOOMY DEAN'S MARRIAGE VIEWS ARE ATTACKED

Dean Inge Advocates Two Kinds of Marriage; State and Church
 Woman Secretary of Divorce Reform Union Slams His New Book

London, Sept. 12.—Dean Inge of St. Paul's, the "Gloomy Dean," who in a recent book took a cheerful view on divorce, met yesterday some controversial opposition from no less a personage than Mrs. M. I. Seaton-Tiedemann, secretary of the Union for Divorce Law Reform. The Dean had suggested two kinds of marriage, one of the sure type that would be binding for ever, and the other a limited contract.

"CONFUSED AND CONTRADICTIONARY," Mrs. Seaton-Tiedemann declared today that "outside the intelligentsia there is no real feeling about anything in the nature of a trial or companionate marriage of free union."

The Dean's suggestion was that marriages should be of two kinds—"a limited contract for persons who do not recognize lifelong vows of fidelity, and a marriage wherein man and woman take such vows." The first kind, he contended, should be recognized by the state and the second by the church.

One of the earliest voices speaking from the viewpoint of the church was that of Dr. J. C. Carile, editor of The Baptist Times, who said, "In my judgment it means a cheapening and vulgarizing of the best qualities in human nature. I am entirely opposed to two standards of marriage, one in the church and another in the state. It would set up different standards of morality."

The Dean, in his book, said he would allow the state to grant divorces for other causes than misconduct, these including desertion, brutal cruelty, habitual drunkenness, conviction for felony and concealment of bodily or mental defects.

Mrs. Seaton-Tiedemann's comment on this proposition was "all of these causes may arise after the parties have been married in a church when according to the Dean's views, their vows should be lifelong. In these circumstances apparently the innocent parties are to have no relief if the ceremony took place in a church."

Settlement For Widow of Earl Borland Made

Seattle, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Irene Borland, widow of Earl Borland, who flew to his death in Siberia last November with Carl Ben Elson, was permitted under a court order yesterday to accept $6,300 from Borland's employers as full settlement for any claim she might have against them.

Mrs. Borland's attorney said the status of her claim under the Workmen's Compensation Act in Alaska was doubtful, but that the air lines for which he flew nevertheless voluntarily made the settlement.

Borland, besides the widow, left two small children.

A CASE OF JUST—PLAIN—BEAUTIFUL!

These are pictures of the same girl. Both are of Miss Dolly Grey, eighteen, of Washington, D.C., showing her before and after she fell into the hands of beauty experts in a contest conducted at a convention of the National Hairdressers' Association. At the left you see her as a "plain girl," selected from among more than 600 other "plain girls" for this modern Cinderella role. At the right you view her transformed—in one hour—into a striking beauty after being garbed in a smart fall frock and given every beauty treatment from a haircut to a facial mold and a marcel.

USE OF MONEY TAUGHT BEST BY ALLOWANCES

Undisputable evidence of authorities that allowances prevent dishonesty, teach the child thrift and economy, and give him a necessary education in independence outweighs whatever convincing arguments parents may marshal for failure to give their children a money allowance.

That demands proof, does it not? The proof lies largely in what happens when no allowances are given. There is a type of parent who says, "Wait until the child can earn his own money," while thrusting him daily into an environment (not like that of his own childhood) where money is an absolute necessity. There is another type who hands out coins niggardly or generous amounts as the whim strikes him, thus engendering no respect for money, and then wonders why the child flitches small coins from the family purse at any opportunity.

If the child spends his money as if the supply were endless, or steals coins from his parents, certainly he has, by their methods, built up an erroneous conception of money. This will change when he is given regularly a definite amount of money, which he must learn to manage in order to enjoy.

WATCH AMOUNT OF ALLOWANCES

The time for such an allowance arrives with school days. Then once, or better twice, weekly the child should have a stated number of pennies for his own small pocketbook. At first, as is to be expected, it will be spent foolishly, but when it is all gone and mother takes care that her own pocket-

AUTHORS TOLD OF CONVENTION

Mrs. J. R. Angus and Miss Perry Speakers at Meeting Yesterday Evening

A resume of the proceedings at the Dominion convention and a review of conditions governing literary contributions in Great Britain were interesting features of the meeting of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association held at Victoria College yesterday evening. Dr. A. O. MacRae, the president, was in the chair.

Mrs. J. R. Angus, as one of the Victoria delegates to the Montreal Convention in June, presented her report and gave a further account of her editorial experiences in New York, following the Convention.

Interesting matters discussed included the proposal to hold the annual convention in London, England in 1932. A committee will go thoroughly into this question during the current year. The 1931 convention will be held in Toronto.

Among the many interesting speakers at the convention Mrs. Angus mentioned Walter McEay of Brockville; Professor W. T. Allison of Winnipeg; Leslie Gordon Barnard of Montreal; Edmond Montet of the Montreal French section; Dr. Lighthall, National President; Dr. Charles G. D. Roberts; H. Napier Moore, editor of MacLean's; Miss Lily Barry of Montreal; Dr. W. H. Wright of the University of Manitoba; Dr. Salem Bland of Toronto; Arthur Deacon, Donald French, Professor Le Rossignol; Professor W. Kirkconnell; Warwick Chipman, J. Other Victoria delegates at the convention included Miss M. Eugenie Perry, Mrs. E. St. Clair Polgreen and J. I. Song "Shipmates," given by F. Wright, accompanied by Mrs. Wright, followed by a whimsical little ballad as an encore.

Miss Perry gave an account of her experiences while visiting the editors of many of the best known journals and periodicals of London and Ire-

The Cowichan Lake-Yioubou Road, which is the final link in road connection between Victoria and the prosperous lake mill settlement, was formally opened yesterday by C. F. Davis, M.P.P., assisted by Patrick Philip, Deputy Minister of Public Works. Mr. Davis, in an address at the ceremony, mentioned the gradual extension of the road system on Vancouver Island, there being 1803 miles of highway now in use, of which 200 miles are paved or have bituminous surface. He spoke of further extension of the road along the shores of Cowichan Lake in the future. Chris Gilson, of the Empire Logging Company, stressed the value of the new road as a link between the settlement and Duncan and Victoria. Mr. Philip, acting for the Minister of Public Works, cut the tape, officially opening the new road section. The ceremony was preceded by a luncheon at the Riverside Inn, given by the Duncan Board of Trade.

SANTO DOMINGO LOSSES REPORTED

Washington, Sept. 12.—A Government survey in Santo Domingo, according to a report received here, estimated the existence of 1,000 gangrene cases, 8,000 injuries and 2,700 dead. Property loss, as a result of the recent hurricane, totaled between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

Santo Domingo, Sept. 12.—As the result of a conference with President Trujillo yesterday, the survey committee appointed to estimate the property loss in the recent hurricane, was making plans to-day to seek an emergency loan of about $3,000,000 in the United States.

The President had a definite report that the American Red Cross was feeding 18,000 in one section of the city, and considered it necessary to provide for 30,000 shelterless refugees, and find work for many more.

While details of the proposed loan to be sought in the United States were undecided, it was suggested $1,000,000 would be asked for Governmental public works and probable $2,000,000 for limited loans to private persons at small interest, secured by first mortgages.

Asbestos Monopoly Not Held By Canada

Montreal, Sept. 12.—At the special meeting of bondholders of the Asbestos Corporation, Col. Massie, president, in answer to an inquiry, stated that under present conditions, the value of the output of asbestos in Canada was only forty-four per cent of that of the whole world, and that asbestos was well distributed.

The figures just published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics bear out the statement made by Col. Massie.

For the month of July, 1930, Canada exported $783,086 of asbestos and its by-products, which compared with $1,145,485 for the same month of last year. The total for the month of June, 1930, however, is more in line with July, amounting to $813,379. The exports of asbestos from Canada were shipped to seventeen countries, namely, the United Kingdom, United States, British East Africa, Australia, British India, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Belgium, Brazil, Colombia, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Peru, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

It may surprise the average man to know that Canada imports asbestos products as well as exports them. In July, 1930, this country brought in from other countries asbestos brakes and clutch lining, asbestos packing and other forms of asbestos other than crude, for a total of $72,588, which compared with $102,555 in the previous month and $81,296 for the same month of 1929.

Winnipeg Plane Event Criticized

Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—Indignation at the proposal for an armada of airplanes to arrive at Winnipeg Sunday was expressed by the Winnipeg Presbytery yesterday. Members took the board of trade to task for permitting the Ford reliability air tour to make its stop at Winnipeg en route westward on the Sabbath. Delegation conferred with board representatives on the matter. "We were the victims of circumstances," the board stated in defence. The board explained a protest had been made to management of the tour, asking any other day than Sunday be named. So the Presbytery exonerated the civic body.

DEBATES IN THE COMMONS DRAW CROWDS

Galleries Filled While Members Grapple With Tasks of Special Session

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Canada's parliamentary show is playing to packed houses and the galleries are filled for both matinee and evening performances. Judging by the crowds which seek admission, the present special session of Parliament is exciting unusual interest among the general public.

While there may be several reasons for the increased attendance, the fact that Parliament is sitting during the tourist season is probably more responsible than any other. Many of those in the galleries are from out of town, and a significant feature of the present session is the large number of requests for tickets of admission to the reserve galleries from visitors from the United States.

The fact that a new government is on test adds to the interest and many people attend the sessions for a glimpse of Premier Bennett and his Cabinet. Many of the members are occupying seats in the House for the first time and the proceedings of Parliament have the attraction of novelty for the wives, children and friends who have accompanied them to Ottawa.

Execution To-day At Walla Walla

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 12.—Archie F. Mook of Spokane was executed by hanging at the state penitentiary here early this morning for the murder of a woman who came here from Boston in response to letters promising marriage.

Mook went to the gallows without making any final statement. Mook had relatives in Saskatchewan, Canada, who aided his defence through employment of counsel, J. A. M. Patrick of Yorkton, Sask., an attorney, was sent to Spokane and was associated with the defence.

RABBITS OF GREAT VALUE CLUB HEARS

Breeding of Animals an Industry, Not a Hobby, C. Woolley Tells Rotarians

Should Be a Side Line of Agriculture, Not Sole Means of Making a Living

"For many, many years rabbit breeding has been a commercial factor, not just a hobby," stated Charles Woolley, president of the B.C. Rabbit Breeders' Association, in addressing the Rotary Club at its luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Woolley noted that scores of years ago rabbit skins were used to furnish "felt" for hats. Forty years ago the peasants of Champagne, France, developed a regular rabbit fur trade, and found it very lucrative, he said.

About thirty years ago the Belgian hare found considerable popularity in the United States. The trade in this rabbit developed into a veritable boom, but, being on an unsound basis, was a failure.

Mr. Woolley traced the recent growth in the rabbit industry from 1915, when the war caused a scarcity in foodstuffs.

NUTRITIOUS FOOD

"At this stage the little rabbit came into its own, and from that day it has gone forward. Its flesh became known as a nutritious food," the speaker said. "The same year rabbit raising in this district also made tremendous strides. Here, too, the Belgian hare was the first important breed. Flemish Giant also became popular, but rabbit culture was not very well understood at that time, Mr. Woolley added.

At first rabbits were exhibited in poultry shows, but in 1918 a complete rabbit exhibition, the first in Canada, was staged in this city.

Among varieties recently introduced is the Chinchilla, one of the most important breeds in existence. At costs of $50 and even $75 a piece this type has been imported to Victoria, where it has become a great prize winner. Later, local Chinchillas were sent away to shows as far distant as Florida, where they did much publicity work.

Mr. Woolley paid tribute to the pioneer work of the late Mrs. Gilling of Saanich in the popularization of rabbit breeding. He showed the value of her work as well as that of Miller Higgs, whose rabbit breeding and contributions on rabbits in his own journal were most encouraging and helpful. Mrs. E. McVickers was also a pioneer of great value in the industry, he stated.

DISGUISED RABBIT

Dealing with the fur question, the speaker stated that most of the fur on millinery clothing was disguised rabbit. Reading from a bulletin, he stated that the preponderance of fur garments made in the world to-day came from the back of the little bunny.

While breeders here were only getting thirty cents a pair, their produce was worth at least double that amount, he maintained.

Rabbit raising was only a side-line of agriculture and should not be taken up as an independent means of making a living, the speaker concluded.

Montague Bruce, president of the club, thanked the speaker for his interesting address.

FORKE DROPS WHEAT POOL MEMBERSHIP

Senator Says His Reasons for Action Are Personal

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—While not criticizing the Wheat Pool or the principles behind its operation, Hon. Robert Forke, former Minister of Immigration in the King Government, and a prominent Manitoba farmer, announced in the Senate yesterday that he had not renewed his contract this year. He was speaking in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne.

After saying he had been a pool member for five years, Senator Forke declared he had "no criticism to make of the wheat pool. I did have some fault to find with some of the extravagant statements made by certain officials, statements that I did not believe had a good effect on the operations of the Wheat Pool in the world's market." After adding that his action was not condemnatory of the principles leading to the pool's organization, Senator Forke merely stated that when his contract had expired he had failed to renew it.

Later, the former cabinet minister said: "I might say that I have never on any occasion publicly or privately criticized in any way the pool's actions. My reason for deciding not to continue with the Wheat Pool was a purely personal one. At the end of the contract period I did not like the statements and actions of some officials of the pool, and some farmers in Saskatchewan who were suggesting a compulsory pool, an organization which farmers would be forced to join if they did not do so voluntarily. I disagreed with that attitude and that is the only reason why I did not renew my contract. I had no dissatisfaction with the conduct of the pool. I may say I am a member of the Coarse Grain Pool and my barley and other products go to that pool. I have simply retained my personal liberty in selling wheat. I thought some people who belonged to the pool were trying to infringe on what I considered to be personal liberty."

STATEMENT BY BURNELL

Statement by Burnell, Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—"It is regrettable," stated C. H. Burnell, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, commenting on Senator Robert R. Forke's announcement in the Senate of his decision not to renew his Wheat Pool Contract, "that a man of Mr. Forke's standing, who owes his career to the Manitoba farmers, should see fit to turn around on the farmers' organization when he has reached the safety island of the Senate."

Mr. Burnell said he had nothing further to say in connection with the matter.

DOCTORS THANK TOUR DIRECTORS

Officials in Charge of British Medical Association Party Receive Presentations

Sanff Springs Hotel, Alta., Sept. 11.—"We have understood that in Canada there has been a non-acceptance of the description given this country by a great author and poet, and now we are prepared to side with that non-acceptance," stated Sir Ewen Maclean, in the ballroom of the Banff Springs Hotel yesterday evening. The occasion was a presentation to Dr. J. D. and Mrs. Adamson of Winnipeg, Dr. T. C. and Mrs. Routley of Toronto, and A. B. Burke of Montreal, one of the conductors of the British Medical Association tour.

Dr. Brackenbury officiated as chairman, and after a brief explanatory address requested Dr. Cox to read two letters, one to Dr. and Mrs. Adamson, and the other to Dr. and Mrs. Routley.

Both signed by every member of the party. Sir Ewen Maclean, after touching on many of the highlights of the tour, particularly the perfect arrangements and the great warmth of welcome extended everywhere in Canada, concluded by saying: "While many of the brilliant memories of Canada may fade, yet we will assure our Canadian friends that never will we forget the unfailing kindness we have met everywhere."

MADE PRESENTATIONS

Sir Ewen made the presentations to Dr. Routley and Dr. Adamson. Mrs. Brackenbury presented to Mrs. Routley and Mrs. Adamson tokens of the esteem of the members of the British Medical Association.

Dr. Routley and Dr. Adamson replied. Dr. Brackenbury then requested Professor Burgess to make a further presentation to A. S. Burke, explaining that the party desired to express the appreciation they felt for the fine services rendered them by Mr. Burke and P. K. Reynolds, C.P.R. officials in charge of the tour. The speaker explained that Mr. Burke was leaving Canada at Montreal, and that they would have another opportunity of recognizing Mr. Reynolds's services later, as he returns to England with them.

"Never in the whole range of time had there been a better conducted party than this, and the services of Mr. Burke and Mr. Reynolds should be recognized. It has been the most successful and most enjoyable tour the British Medical Association has ever had, and that success is in no little measure due to the efforts of Mr. Burke and Mr. Reynolds," said Professor Burgess.

Banff Springs Hotel, Alta., Sept. 12.—Those in charge of the arrangements for the tour of the British Medical Association were given tokens of appreciation by members of the party at Banff Springs Hotel, Wednesday evening. Presentations were made to Dr. J. D. and Mrs. Adamson of Winnipeg, Dr. T. C. and Mrs. Routley of Toronto and A. B. Burke of Montreal, one of the conductors of the British Medical Association tour.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—With all the impressiveness the Roman Catholic Church attaches to its solemn ceremonies and amid scenes of ecclesiastical grandeur, Monsignor J. C. Rodrigue Villeneuve, O.M.I., yesterday was elevated to the dignity of the episcopacy as the first Bishop of Gravelbourg, Sask. The ceremony was conducted in the basilica by Archbishop William Forbes of Ottawa.

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of Ford Commercial Units

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the Ford truck is found in its increasing use by Dominion, provincial and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford truck has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—strength, safety, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using Ford trucks are the Canadian Pacific Express Company, Imperial Oil, Ltd., Tuckett Tobacco Company, Ltd., Bell Telephone Company of Canada, Canadian National Express, Standard Brands, Ltd., Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Ltd., Canadian National Railways, Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and the Canada Bread Company, Ltd.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs Ford commercial cars and trucks. Daily, in countless ways and places, they help speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford truck, its high quality of materials, and accuracy in manufacturing.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the truck and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

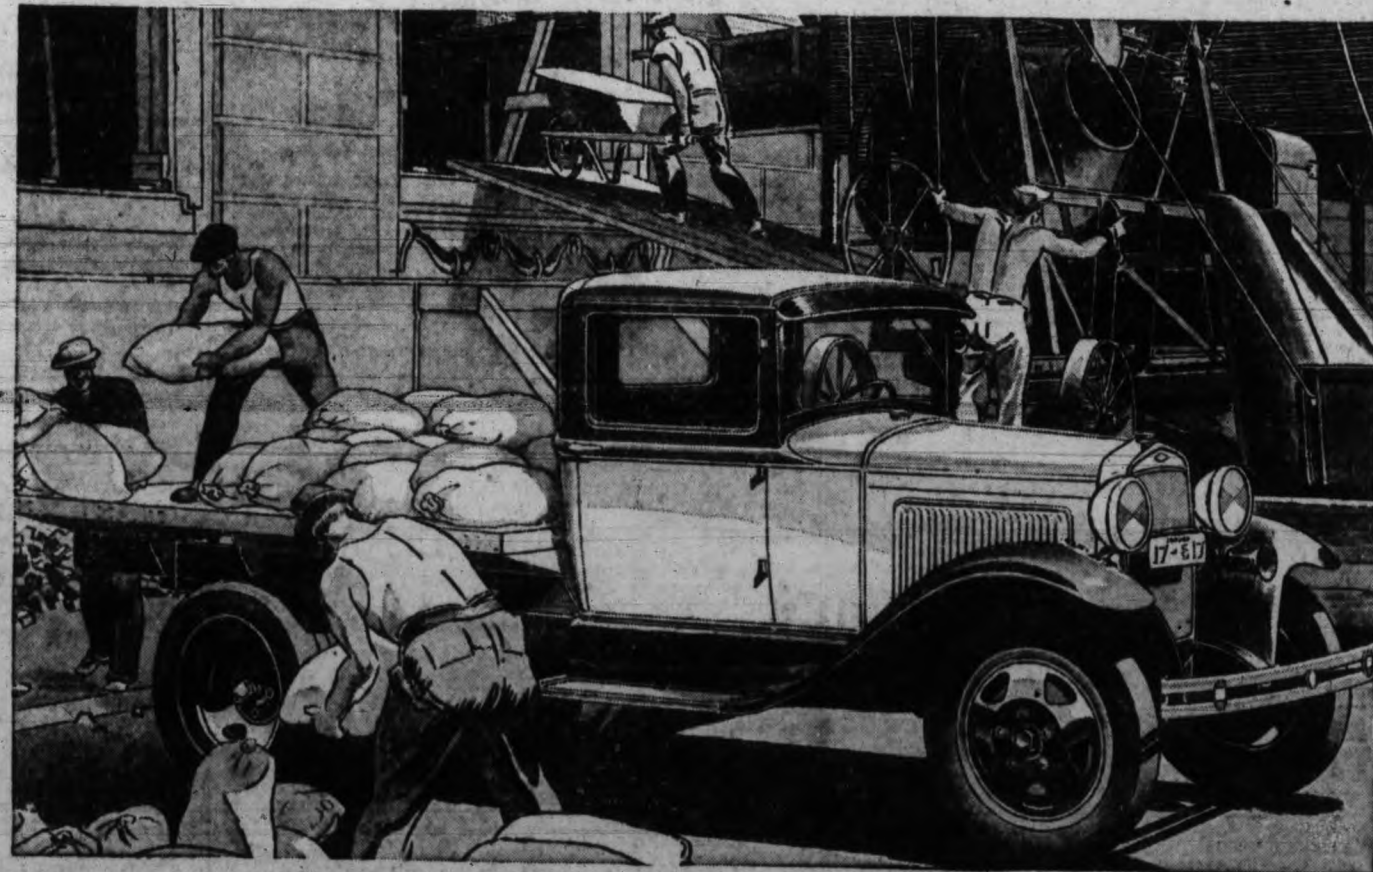

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the shatterless glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, by means of large production, give it to the public at the lowest possible cost.

French Prince Boasted When Sister

Beat Him

Francis loved exercise, especially tennis and hunting. He was such a strong boy that he wore out most of his companions in the court. The only one who could keep up with him was his sister Marguerite, to whom he was deeply devoted.

Sometimes they went hunting together with their crows. Francis was proud of his success with the bow, and the expert shots of the court knew better than to beat him, for he would be depressed the rest of the day.

It was different with Marguerite.

When they went hunting together, there were times when she would have better success than he would. Then her brother would turn proudly to the members of the court who rode with them and say, "See! Marguerite is a better shot than I am. She is the best in all France!"

Francis became Francis I. King of France. He was born September 12, 1494.

STRONG PACK AGAIN BAOST OF REP TEAM

Forwards Rounding Into Good

Shape for Games Against

Japanese Fifteen

Entertainment Arrangements

Made for Visitors at Rugby

Meeting Here

With its usual strong forward division being whipped into shape, the Victoria "rep" team is shaping up well for its games with the Japanese here on Wednesday and Saturday of next week. The team has only two more practices before they take the field for the initial encounter. This evening, at the University School grounds, the boys will go through their paces, while on Sunday they will be given the final workout at the Willows.

Bob Travis, who has been spending plenty of time with the forwards, thinks the pack will again be the outstanding part of the team, although, he says, the backs should certainly prove a hard working division.

Plans were made for the entertainment of the visitors at the local authorities' meeting yesterday evening. The Nipponese will arrive from Seattle on the Monday afternoon boat and will be met at the dock by Mayor Anson and members of the Victoria Union.

CIVIC LUNCHEON

Immediately on disembarking, they will proceed to the Crystal Garden, where they will be guests at a civic luncheon. Later they will be accompanied by some of the local authorities to their rooms in the Strathcona

Hotel.

Keeping up their usual schedule, the Japanese will hold a workout at the Royal Athletic Park on Tuesday morning and will be taken over the Malahat Drive that afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

After the game Wednesday afternoon, the touring team will be guests at a large banquet, which will be staged by the Provincial Government.

The following morning they will be taken to Butcher's Gardens and in the afternoon will probably visit Brentwood

College at the invitation of its headmaster.

On the return to the city the visitors will stop at the Saanich Observatory,

WOULD HAVE NEW BOY FOR PARK CONTROL

Tourist Trade Group Discusses Plans for Improving Beacon Hill Park

Will Name Four Members to Act With Capital City Beautification Group

Planning control and supervision of city parks in the hands of a citizens' commission instead of the parks committee was the subject of a resolution passed at a meeting of the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

The resolution concluded a discussion on plans for the beautification of Beacon Hill Park. Definite action taken on the move to improve the park involved the appointment of a committee of four to act with the recently-appointed Capital City Beautification Committee under the chairmanship of Alderman W. T. Smith. A resolution to name such a committee was passed by the gathering.

Duncan D. McTavish, in a letter to the chamber, set forth a number of suggestions for the improvement of the park. He has also sent the same communication to the City Council. The various clubs, such as the idea of gaining concerted action on the movement.

Chief among Mr. McTavish's suggestions for beautification of the park were: Cutting of the broom into islands and preventing its uncontrolled spread. Planting of shrubs from the park nursery at various points in the grounds. Continuation of the road leading to the flagstone across the hill to the tennis courts. Construction of tennis courts. Planting of from 10,000 to 20,000 bulbs in park gardens.

Construction of a garden. Considerable discussion on Mr. McTavish's letter followed a talk by Dr. Clem Davies, who said that Beacon Hill could be made the most beautiful park in Canada.

WOULD HELP UNEMPLOYMENT

Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., said the whole matter should be undertaken by the City Council.

If necessary, he thought, a vote to raise the money could be placed and he was sure the citizens would not refuse to spend a sum to beautify the park. In any event, it would serve to alleviate unemployment during the winter.

Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the City Parks Committee, declared the parks committee had done as much as possible with the funds at its disposal. He agreed with the plan for planting of bulbs and referred to the fact that the water main under the watermain had been secured this year.

NEED SEPARATE BOARD

"I have always contended, however, that a park board, separate from the City Council, is necessary to supervise the parks."

In reply to a suggestion by H. D. Patterson, Alderman Worthington said the committee now had under consideration the removal of wagons, old shacks and stumps from the animal enclosure in Beacon Hill.

F. R. Leighton advanced a proposal for the piping of the whole park with a waterworks system to provide for watering flowers, lawns and gardens and keeping them green during the summer months. If bulbs were planted they would need water to keep them alive, he said, referring to a new foot-ball pitch had never been watered after being seeded and was now bare.

Alderman Alex Feden, a member of the parks committee, declared a strong policy on the part of the city to spend the money, borrowed if necessary, on improving the park, should be carried out.

Reference to the proposed capital city beautification commission, planned here some time ago, was made by Alderman W. T. Smith. There was no action on the subject.

CFCT ARTISTS' NIGHT TO-NIGHT

CANADA ABLE TO SNAP BACK TO PROSPERITY AS QUICKLY AS ANY

No Room for Gloom, With Mineral Wealth Valued at $300,000,000 and Projected Waterpower Projects Costing $100,000,000, Says George H. Smith of Toronto; Good to Have Bit Tightened on Extravagance.

"When you realize that the mineral wealth of Canada to-day is valued at $300,000,000, as compared with $75,000,000 in 1915, and that $100,000,000 is to be expended by private industrial interests within the next three years in the completion of water power projects, it is easy to see that Canada will be among the first countries to recover from the effects of the world depression," said George H. Smith, general manager of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation and the Canada Permanent Trust Company of Toronto, in an interview to-day.

"There has been much talk of lean crop years," went on Mr. Smith, but consider Canada's crop position to-day with the years of 1915, 1921 and 1922, when the crops were considerably smaller. Last year we had a crop of 305,000,000 bushels, or 100,000,000 bushels more than in 1922.

"I feel quite satisfied that conditions are better here than in any other country. We are, perhaps, given too much to periods of over-extravagance, and it is good to have the bit tightened up. But I feel that Canada is in the best position of any of the undeveloped countries to snap back to prosperity as quickly as any of them. Of Canada's great resources, the annual production of minerals and pulp and paper alone is greater than were the field crops of twenty years ago."

"Even when the huge water power programme under way is completed, not more than fifteen per cent of the country's resources will be under development. Canada's natural wealth has not yet been scratched."

ASSURE RECOVERY

"It is these things which will assure Canada's recovery and is made possible by the development of the country's enormous water power."

"When the huge water power programme under way is completed, not more than fifteen per cent of the country's resources will be under development. Canada's natural wealth has not yet been scratched."

Mr. Smith is accompanied on his present trip to Victoria by Robert Henderson, inspector of branches, Toronto, and George I. Leggett, B.C. manager.

The Island player's lead, however, was cut one stroke by Dave Black, Shaughnessy professional, who went round in a par 71 to bring his aggregate up to 212, and by Don Sutherland of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club, who turned in a card of 70, one under par also for a 212 count and a tie with Black for second place.

Jack Fraser of Shaughnessy retained his lead among the amateurs by stroking the layout in 76 this morning for an aggregate of 218. ### LARGER FUND IS REQUIRED AT BLAKEBURN

Widows, Children and Dependents of Deceased Miners Need Aid

While unbounded sympathy has been expressed for the unfortunate families bereft of fathers, husbands and brothers through the Blakeburn mine disaster last month, the committee in charge of the Relief Fund canvass is still seeking greater financial assistance. Gifts have been coming in since the subscription list was opened in The Times, but as yet the sum secured is still far below what is needed.

Yesterday came a donation from an anonymous person expressing great sympathy for the Blakeburn families. Couched in simple language the letter spoke feelingly on behalf of the people and clearly demonstrated the writer's sincere wish to help them.

Any who have not yet made their donation to the fund are requested to do so as soon as possible. The names of widows and children of the deceased Blakeburn miners are in immediate need.

Donations yesterday afternoon and this morning were as follows:

A. Mc. $1.00

Mrs. A. E. Carter $1.00

Anonymous $2.00

Mrs. C. J. $1.00

Previously acknowledged $61.04

Total $70.04

ISLAND COAL IS GOOD COAL

One of a series of advertisements emphasizing the superiority of Comox and Nanaimo-Wellington Coal as a generator of heat for all industrial and domestic purposes.

THESE LEADING MERCHANTS WILL PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT THIS WINTER - WILL YOU?

THIS advertisement is published to define the avenues of distribution of Comox and Nanaimo-Wellington Coals . . . so that the public may know from whom they can be obtained.

It is also intended as a measure of support for all Island coal dealers who, in selling the product of Home Industry, have to meet the daily competition of imported coal and fuels other than coal.

It further serves to bring to your notice the names of those reputable merchants who are honestly trying to bring about a permanent improvement of the existing conditions in the coal business. These dealers are worthy of your support.

In the hands of these citizens lies the ability to provide constant employment for more than 6,000 wage-earners. With your assistance their efforts will help solve the unemployment problem and assist in building up a greater prosperity in the community.

You can help them to do this by always ordering "Nanaimo-Wellington" or "Comox" Coal.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown and Co. Ltd.)
Winnipeg, Sept. 12.—Wheat: The wheat market repeated its action of the past few days, settling off about 2 cents during the first part of the day, when offerings were fairly liberal and regaining part of the loss in the late trade when offerings were scarce and early sellers were covering their commitments, the latter action being in sympathy with Chicago which firmed up in the late trade.

Trade was again largely local, although there appeared to be some good absorption on the break but export sales were practically nil over night. Liverpool was very weak closing 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower when due 1/2 higher on Winnipeg and 1/4 higher on Chicago.

At the start there was some liquidation of long wheat based on the weak cable and some selling by continental export houses which was understood to be reselling. The weakness in Liverpool was reported as due to general liquidation and the slow demand from millers.

The weather in Western Canada has been more or less unsettled, with showers or rains fairly frequent. Shipments this week outside of North America were 4,044,000 bushels, while Bradstreet's estimates North American shipments at 10,000,000 bushels. Country marketings Thursday were 4,584,000 against 3,996,000 a year ago, the wet weather probably reducing deliveries yesterday, but the moisture badly needed in all the western provinces.

The demand for cash wheat only fair, offerings were light and only small business was passing. Flour trade quiet. Crop conditions in Australia, Argentina and India reported as very favorable, but it is understood that Argentina will shortly be in need of moisture.

The wheat situation looks heavy and continues to advise a selling position on all moderate upturns. Winnipeg futures close 1 1/4 and 1/2 lower, or up 1/2 from the bottom.

Coarse grains: A small lot of rye was reported worked for export to-day but its destination was unknown. Otherwise the coarse grains were quiet and featureless, with a little demand for the odd cars of cash grain from western Canada.

Flax: Quiet and featureless, closing 1 1/2 lower. Verpool due 1/2 higher based on Winnipeg.

STROMBOLI PEOPLE LIVING NOW IN TENTS

Abandon Buildings on Italian Island While Great Volcano Is in Eruption

Bodies of Four Victims of Disturbances Yesterday Are Identified

Rome, Sept. 12.—The government announced today that four victims of the eruption of the Stromboli volcano and the earthquake had been identified as follows:

Salvatore Saltalamacchia, Maria Rosa Fumalari and their daughter, Maria, burned to death in a torrent of hot sand, and Giuseppe Tripi, drowned near San Vincenzo.

In addition G. Concettinelli is missing, and the body is believed submerged in lava.

SLEEP IN OPEN
Messina, Italy, Sept. 12.—The people of Messina, Stromboli and Lipari today turned anxious eyes toward the Stromboli volcano which, strangely silent after its latest eruption, had kept thousands awake and on the alert throughout the night.

The nearly 3,000 residents of Stromboli Island slept last night in the open, under tents provided by government ships hurriedly sent to them after yesterday's eruption and violent earthquake shocks. Three thousand feet above them was the peak of the volcano, mysteriously quiet, but with all of its resawakened deadly potentialities.

Two torpedo boats came back from Stromboli shortly before midnight, bringing one badly injured person, reporting four dead at Stromboli, one woman missing and nine residents injured.

FIRES EXTINGUISHED
Many fires started by the volcano were extinguished by the companies of firemen debarred from the ships.

Stromboli Island was the heaviest loser. Aside from the fatalities, three villages were partly destroyed, and acres of fertile land laid waste. That more lives were not lost was due to the fact that the volcano itself sounded to the inhabitants.

GRAPE CROP RUINED
The double catastrophe came at a bad time for the Stromboli grape growers, who had been nursing their choicest product for National Grape Day, September 26. The lava, instead of going down to the sea, as in the case of the eruption of Mount Etna in 1928, spread over the city of Stromboli and surrounding countryside until there was little left of the grape crop.

The lesson the authorities learned on July 23 in the Appennines was applied promptly to Stromboli at the first warning. The speedy dispatch of four destroyers and four torpedo boats, together with mine layers and the coastal steamer Rolando, laden with tents and other supplies, averted serious inconvenience and possible suffering to the Stromboli inhabitants.

Expressing his appreciation of the warm welcome extended to him and members of his party on their arrival at Victoria Thursday, Premier Forbes declared he had been proud to set foot in a British Dominion in this part of the world.

"There has always been a great friendship between New Zealand and Canada," he said. "We in New Zealand have followed with interest and pride the progress of your great country. Being a smaller Dominion, we regard Canada in the light of a big brother."

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER
"We are proud to stand shoulder to shoulder with you as two Dominions of the great British Empire," Premier Forbes declared. "One reason for my coming to Canada is to see your Prime Minister with a view to the encouragement of mutual trade between our countries."

COWICHAN FALL FAR STARTED THIS AFTERNOON

Opening Ceremony at Duncan Performed by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor

Duncan, Sept. 12.—The fall fair of the Cowichan Agricultural Society, which is an outstanding event of the year at Duncan, was opened this afternoon by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, Run in conjunction with the fall fair is the Vancouver Island sheep fair, held under the auspices of the Plockmesters' Association and partially maintained by grants from the Dominion and Provincial Governments. In addition to sheep exhibits, the sheep fair includes demonstrations in connection with sheep work and sheep dog trials.

Judging at the fair commenced this morning, and the exhibits will be open to the general public until the close of the fair—approximately September 15. In addition to the many kinds of agricultural exhibits, there are departments for domestic science, ladies' work, art and photography. An interesting section is the Indian department, where Indian-made mats, baskets, cedar work and woven wear are to be seen.

The presence of the Lieut.-Governor this afternoon added considerable interest to the fair, and a ceremony which mark the fair day, and it appears that the officers of the Cowichan Agricultural Society have performed their task well. These officers, in addition to a board of directors of twelve members, are: B. Young, president; W. Neel, first vice-president; J. Y. Copeman, second vice-president; W. Waldon, secretary-treasurer.

$20,000,000 BILL
Second reading of the bill which seeks to appropriate $20,000,000 in order to proceed with work as an aid for the unemployed was then moved by the Prime Minister.

The principle of the bill was clear for the preamble and the second paragraph, he said.

So far as direct undertakings were concerned, the government was merely anticipating by a short period work for which appropriate would have to be asked, he said.

Yesterday, Mr. Bennett continued, he had indicated it was not intended to extend the appropriation of $20,000,000 beyond March 31 next. A suggestion had been made that should be added to the bill, and to that he had no objection. He was not objecting to the expenditures was concerned, the Auditor-General would examine the accounts. It was impossible to determine the work to be undertaken, just as it was not possible to indicate how the money loaned to the various harbor commissions would be spent. In this money would be expended by authorities who were themselves responsible to the people.

ATTITUDE OF LIBERALS
To the bill as outlined by the Prime Minister the opposition took no exception, declared Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. Parliament had been summoned to deal with unemployment, and was now dealing with it. To the given, in the form of public works and of assistance to the provinces and municipalities who were unable to cope with the situation, there was no objection. He wished to make it clear that the Liberal opposition was in accord with the principle of the bill, namely, that of giving relief by the government in a national situation.

INFORMATION NEEDED
The Prime Minister, said Mr. King, had given the House no information as to the form of public works and might have received from the provinces on this matter, declaring unemployment was so bad the provinces could not cope with it.

R.C.M.P. MAN KILLS HIS BRIDE AND HIMSELF

They were together for two years prior to their marriage two months ago, and had several differences.

It is thought the young wife had seen the gun in her husband's hand and tried to stop him from shooting by putting her hand over the muzzle of the revolver. That went directly through the palm of her hand and entered the body above the heart. It is believed McIntosh went directly to the kitchen and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

From the mute evidence in the house and the deaths, Chief Coroner M. M. Crawford and the police were able partly to piece together just what had occurred.

NO MARRIAGE REPORT
Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Officials of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters staff here were not aware of the marriage of the constable who shot and killed his wife and committed suicide in Toronto, was married. From this they gathered the constable had married without permission and was concealing the fact from his superior officers. Members of the force are not permitted to marry until they have completed the required number of years of service as non-commissioned officers.

Meagre details of the tragedy were received by telephone from the authorities in Toronto. They indicated that McIntosh had come into his quarters yesterday evening appearing disturbed and excited and showing signs of drinking. He was ordered to go to bed and later refused to go out, but was told to stay in.

MISSING IN MORNING
In the morning he was missing, as he had gone out in the night while the others were asleep. Early this morning the city police telephoned about the shooting.

No investigation will be held by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police authorities. The matter is in the hands of the coroner and the usual procedure will be followed. The commanding officer of the force in Toronto, of course, will make a formal report to headquarters.

According to the records, McIntosh had received favorable reports on his service from time to time. He joined the force in Winnipeg in October, 1928, and after a period of training at Regina was transferred to Toronto in March, 1929.

VERDICT SOON
IN BRONFMAN
CASE AT REGINA

Expected Decision Will Be Given Before To-morrow Morning

Canadian Press
Regina, Sept. 12.—The Bronfman case may be in the hands of the jury late this afternoon.

Following the unexpected completion of the case for the prosecution shortly before the noon hour, defense counsel waited in consultation in their quarters in the Hotel Saskatchewan.

It is probable no defense will be offered, A. McGillivray, K.C., for the defense, already having argued no case had been made out. In that event the decision when court resumes, and the prosecution counsel will immediately begin the address to the jury. This manoeuvre will give the defense counsel the opportunity of addressing the jury last, to be immediately followed by Mr. Justice Taylor, with a verdict being reached some time to-night.

WITNESS NOT FOUND
Mrs. D. W. Readman, wife of the missing witness, from whom she is estranged, stepped from the box when Col. C. E. Gregory, K.C., announced the prosecution had to make a decision, with only two courses open. One was to ask for an adjournment. The other was to ask for a verdict. The latter was chosen, and the jury was locked up until Readman was found, or the other to close the case as it stood. As there was no immediate prospect of finding for which appropriate to locate him had proved futile, after due deliberation it had been decided to close with the evidence available.

Bronfman is charged with "willfully attempting between January 18, 1922, and May 1, 1922, to obstruct, prevent or defeat the course of justice by causing Douglas William Readman and Herman Clements, material witnesses, to refrain from giving evidence during the prosecution of Dave Gallman of Moose Jaw, charged with a violation of the Saskatchewan Temperance Act."

them to remove the telephone from the ranch house there. This done, he turned the rifle on Stoddard and as the latter jumped the bullet went through his left arm between the elbow and shoulder, grazed his chest and passed through the muscle of the right arm. Spencer then shot Smith in the back.

FOUND ON ROAD
Spencer apparently took to the bush, and the wounded Stoddard went to Smith's aid, staying with him until he died. He then took the car to return to the Chilipe Ranch, but owing to his exhausted condition, the car slowed and overturned. He was found late in the afternoon and was rushed to the Williams Lake Hospital, where his arm was amputated. It is believed he will recover.

He was able to give the details of the shooting so far as they are known. Immediately Sergeant Gallagher of the Provincial Police organized an armed posse. To-day he is directing the search.

Spencer came to this country about six years ago from Australia. He bought several ranches and was reputed to have several million dollars' worth of property and stocks. Indicating the extent of his riches, he built 200 miles of new fences last year. He suffered the loss or depreciation of several hundred thousand dollars in the recent market collapse. His health had been bad for about a year, and about three months ago he was reported to have recovered, so he was able to return to his ranch.

Mrs. Spencer is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and was married to Spencer in Australia. She at home on the Chilipe Ranch. She and her husband having spent last winter in Vancouver and California.

Spencer is about thirty-five years of age, and Stoddard thirty-five. Smith was fifty.

Smith was from England and single. It was Stoddard's second term at the Chilipe Ranch. He was married for the second engagement a year ago.

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—W. R. Warren, of Regina, Deputy Minister of Telephones for Saskatchewan, and a brother of A. E. Warren, vice-president in charge of western lines of the Canadian National Railways, died here this morning.

He came to Vancouver two months ago after being granted three months' leave of absence because of ill-health. He had been Deputy Minister for nearly twenty-five years, serving under several governments. He was born in Bristol and came to Canada thirty years ago. He settled at Winnipeg where he entered the telephone business.

Now he is out for protection, which is a very different thing indeed," the Prime Minister continued. "Of course, I am in favor of closer trading within the Empire, but in New Zealand we feel Beaverbrook's ideal, even in its present form, would be beset with many practical difficulties."

Barriers Against Beaverbrook Trade
Plan, Says Forbes

Vancouver, Sept. 12.—"Beaverbrook seems to have departed from the idea of Empire free trade, which we in New Zealand believe was a dream impossible of realization," Premier G. W. Forbes commented in an interview here today on the British publisher's Empire trade programme.

"Now he is out for protection, which is a very different thing indeed," the Prime Minister continued. "Of course, I am in favor of closer trading within the Empire, but in New Zealand we feel Beaverbrook's ideal, even in its present form, would be beset with many practical difficulties."

AFTER ILLNESS POWERFUL Saves You Weeks of Weakness

1928 By NEA Service Inc. WITH DEWEY GROVES "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" LOVE FOR TWO ETC.

Thought of Dan dispelled some of her thrill. She didn't want him to think that she had refused his offer to bring her to Dr. Belden's simply because Alester could account for more gold... but that was precisely why she had refused him!

Jerry felt decidedly uncomfortable. "We'll drive out to Port Jefferson and drop in for tea at the Rolling Stone Inn on our way back," Alester was saying. The prospect of a drive appealed to Jerry—perhaps a sense of motion and constantly changing scenes would help her to think as she wanted to think.

This was more than she'd ever expected out of life—and her enjoyment of it was clouded because a man with dark blue-grey eyes had magnetism in his touch. It seemed cruel to Jerry that the realization of more than her wildest dreams would be so marred. She told herself that she was beginning to dislike Dan Harvey.

There had been days when she worked in the humid, breathless atmosphere of Fane's on which she'd have been tempted to gamble with her soul at stake for a drive like this.

The sweeping, wooded hills, the sudden descents upon little harbor villages, the landscaped grounds of beautiful estates, the luxury and speed of the high-powered motor car—all were exquisitely new to Jerry. They seemed to release a wellspring of emotion, to cause her to feel as she was fairly soaring over the earth.

And yet her elation was dimmed by a troubled conscience—she felt she had been ungrateful to one who had been tender toward her.

At Port Jefferson they turned back, inland, and drove far beyond the speed limit on their way to the inn. Jerry thought of many coal-black eyes charging furiously ahead of them. This man-made thing under the hood held power equal to nearly a hundred horse strength. Alester had been right. Inflamed by Alester's importance and the knowledge that she was near some of the finest estates in the world, Jerry was prepared to find the Rolling Stone Inn a palatial place.

She was both surprised and put at ease when Alester turned the nose of his car in at the approach to what looked like a private home such as they had passed by the dozen. A shingle on the house bore the name, also Jerry noted, that she had been certain that they were at their destination.

Alester parked the car on a pebbled space and helped Jerry out. She saw, on closer inspection, that the place was more impressive than she had thought at first. There was a fountain in a more or less formal garden and as they approached the terrace the porch swung open for them, and a burly colored man in uniform greeted Alester familiarly.

Jerry surmised that he must be a frequent visitor here. And for an instant she felt that the doorman regarded her in what might have been surprise or contempt or alarm. She could not decide which.

They were shown to a pleasantly placed table on a screened porch. Jerry noted that it had a more luxurious centerpiece than the other tables. It seemed, in a way she could not define, to be a special table. The waiter hadn't exactly shown them to it, but when he led the way to that end of the porch Alester had indicated that they would sit there.

Again it seemed to Jerry that she inspired something like consternation when the waiter glanced at her. She became self-conscious. Her dress, of course, she knew that she wasn't dressed as the girls of Alester's acquaintance dressed.

Oh why had she been too indifferent about camping to care what she wore! All those pretty, dainty things in her suitcase! She must get them to-night!

CHAPTER VI
Jerry turned to see who or what had brought that queer expression to Alester's face.

She saw nothing more startling than an unusually attractive woman, in her late twenties perhaps, coming toward them.

Jerry sought to keep her mind on the rules for introductions that she had read in a book on etiquette when she was preparing for her invasion of Atlantic City. She remembered that a woman need not rise, unless... what was it? Something about age. She'd better sit still, she decided.

"Leontine—this is Miss Ray—Miss Edna Bala, concert pianist and composer, will be presented from C.P.C.'s main studio in a special recital, including original compositions and works by other writers. Myra Deane-Freeman, soprano, will be the assisting artist. Earlier in the evening, at 8:30, Auntie Bala will entertain the kiddies, the 'Sunset Hour' will be featured at 9:15, and the thirty-minute program at 7:30 will be followed by the weekly episode of 'Elias and Wong.' This negro-Chinese comedy team will have further adventures, and to-night's fifteen-minute period will throw an interesting light on etiquette and table manners."

OUR BOARDING HOUSE
"I'll tell you one that I've seen in Africa you'll think is a puff from the old picture pipe!—ever hear of the 'Cannibal Tree'?—the top of its trunk has a sort of mouth opening when a bird or lizard gets in it, the branches curl inward trapping the victim, which the tree gradually absorbs."

LUCKILY WE HAVEN'T THEM IN THIS COUNTRY, ESPECIALLY FOR THAT CROP OF TREE-SITTERS WE HAD THIS SUMMER!

EGAD—THIS IS MORE THAN I CAN STAND!—I'M GOING TO GET A SET OF TEMPORARY TEETH TOMORROW SO I WILL BE ABLE TO TALK TO THAT BRAGGING BOUNDER AND TELL HIM SOME OF MY EXPERIENCES!

BEARDING THE LION IN HIS DEN.

By Miss Lebaudy. Alester was introducing them.

"How do you do?" Jerry said, remembering just in time not to say, "Pleased to meet you."

Leontine Lebaudy said nothing for what threatened to become an awkward length of time. Then, "How do you, aren't you?" she drawled.

Jerry looked helplessly at Alester. "That can be corrected," he said, smiling.

Leontine frowned briefly. "Of course," she said hurriedly, letting her eyes rove over the table. "How's your drink?"

"Not so good," Alester replied. "Miss Ray doesn't like it."

Leontine looked at Jerry questioningly. The latter did not like the look. She could not define the quality in it that displeased her, but the word "patronizing" flashed through her mind and she couldn't have hit much closer.

Leontine Lebaudy had estimated Jerry quickly as an outsider.

Jerry decided to be natural. She did not drink and they might as well know it. She wasn't going to apologize for it either.

"I never drink intoxicating liquors," she said stiffly, and Leontine turned to Alester with uplifted eyebrows.

"Are you undertaking her education?" she asked.

"I think I'd rather learn from Miss Ray how to be good," he answered slowly.

Leontine gave him a furtive glance. Jerry was aware of this time that she was crossing swords.

"Who gave you this table?" Leontine said crossly. "It's reserved for dinner. I didn't want it used."

Alester half closed his eyelids but not sufficiently to hide a gleam of amusement in his eyes as he answered. "This table is for me whenever I want it," he said. "You know that, Leontine."

To Jerry's amazement the woman he addressed turned a suddenly appealing look upon him.

"But you never want it any more, Alester," she said, and Jerry had the sensation of feeling her presence forgotten.

"Not since I learned who else reserves it," Alester returned coolly. "I prefer something more exclusive."

The woman shrunk back as though from a blow, but the next instant she laughed.

"Some people can't be dropped, you know," she said almost under her breath. "It isn't safe."

Jerry thought she detected a pleading note in her voice, but if it were there, Alester seemed unaware of it.

"So far as I know," he said, "no one ever tried it. But you can fix up your table. Miss Ray and I will keep this one and stay to dinner."

Again that cringe, so fleeting that Jerry was to wonder later if she really had seen it, and Leontine made a motion of resignation.

"Let's have some radio music," Alester added. "I'd like to dance."

BEDTIME STORY Uncle Wiggily and the Nipper

(Copyright, 1930)
By HOWARD R. GARIS

Where are you going, Wiggily? asked the rabbit gentleman's wife as she saw him one morning hopping away from the seaweed bungalow at the shore.

"Oh, no, I just want to look around," he answered with a polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "Just to look around."

"Look around what—the corner?" asked Mrs. Longears.

"Oh, no, I just want to look around the beach, up and down the sand and out across the waves to sort of say good-by," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "For you know we are going back to Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains to-morrow and I like to say farewell to the shore."

"That's a good idea," said the lady rabbit. "And while you are about it, look to see that the children have left none of their toys and playthings, for there will be a great scrambling in the morning to pile back to our other home, and something might be forgotten."

"As long as we don't forget any of the children everything will be all right," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "Even though we have forty sixteen little bunnies, my dear, I love them, every one."

"So do I!" said she. "Well, hop along, Wiggily, and Nurse Jane and I will finish packing up ready for the start home to-morrow."

The bunch of seaweed began twisting about.

Uncle Wiggily hopped along the shore by the salty sea waves and thought of all the fun he and the children had found near the ocean. He had made a bungalow out of seaweed, he had built a raft boat of driftwood and he had made a roller coaster out of a barrel which twirled up and down the sand hills.

All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily saw a big bunch of seaweed on the shore just above the high tide mark. And as he looked the bunch of dark green weed began to move.

"The fun!" said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I never knew that a bunch of seaweed was alive, though, of course, being a plant, it can grow. But I think now it is doing this bunch twiddling about. I'll see."

Going close to the big bunch of the rabbit gentleman asked:

"Is anybody under there?"

"Yes, I am!" answered a voice.

"Oh, my goodness me!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Maybe it's one of my little rabbits and he's so tangled in the long strands of weed that he can't get out. It's a good thing I hopped this way. Who are you?" he loudly called. Are you Buster or Cooter or Jingle or Jangle or Baby Buntly under there?"

"Neither one!" answered a voice. "I'm a Nipper, that's what I am."

"Oh, a Nipper," murmured Mr. Longears, wondering what it could be.

"Yes, I'm a Nipper and I'm a Pippin and I'm a Snipper and I'm a Ripper!" went on the voice and whenever it was under the bunch of weed began twiddling about so hard that the whole bunch suddenly turned upside down.

"That's funny," said Uncle Wiggily. "I didn't pile that seaweed on you. I just came along and saw it moving. Then you turned it over and I saw you. Really, I didn't do it."

"Then who did?" asked the lobster, waving his claws.

"I don't know," politely answered Uncle Wiggily. "But all of a sudden he heard voices talking back of a sand hill, so the rabbit said: 'Perhaps whoever is there did it. Listen.'"

He and the lobster listened and they heard the Sea Wolf talking to his wife. "Hi! Hi!" chuckled the Sea Wolf. "It's the best joke ever, my dear! I came down here to wait for Uncle Wiggily, to make a last try at catching him, and I saw a lobster asleep on the sand. I piled a lot of seaweed on the old lobster and when he wakes he'll be so tangled that he can't get loose. I think he may be waking now. Come on down and see the fun!"

"Hi! Stay right where you are and see the fun!" roared the lobster. "So it was you, Mr. Sea Wolf, who played a trick on me? Well, just for that I'll chase you. Then the lobster scrambled across the sand and, catching hold of Mr. Wolf's tail in one claw and Mrs. Wolf's tail in the other claw, he gave the two bad chaps such hard pinches that they howled and yowled and scowled and away they ran up the beach and were gone a long time trying to rub sand on their aching tails.

"No Woman in This Day Need Remain as Homely As Nature Made Her Unless She Lacks the Brains And Energy and Determination to Circumvent The Stingy Old Jade Who Held Out on Her"

A DESPAIRING young woman asks: Can a girl make herself over? Must a girl who is plain of face, who is too fat, who lacks personality, who has no accomplishments, who has no tact and who always says and does the wrong thing, submit to her fate or can she do something to take the curse off herself?

Cease to mourn as one without hope, daughter, for no woman in this day need remain as homely as nature made her unless she lacks the brains and energy and determination to circumvent the stingy old jade who held out on her when pulchritude was being passed around.

Of course, it is great luck to be born with a peach-and-cream complexion and golden tresses that curl in ringlets about your alabaster brow and with a slim and lithe figure, but if you did not get that kind of a break it is a comfort to know that you haven't lost out entirely and that you don't have to go through life with a salaratus-blue complexion and stringy locks and looking as lumpy as a bundle that mother tied up.

Thank heaven, there is a beauty shop on almost every corner where they put in a permanent wave that Aphrodite herself might envy. You can get a synthetic complexion at your drug store that beats a real one all hollow, and any girl by taking thought to her calories can make herself thin or plump at pleasure.

Besides, beauty rests in the eye of the beholder, and when we speak of a girl being pretty we do not really mean that she has classic features and lustrous eyes and the proportions of a Folies girl. We merely mean that she presents a pleasing and attractive appearance, and about ninety per cent of this is her clothes.

Therefore, if you are an ugly duckling, daughter, first acquire the art of make-up. Learn to use cosmetics so that they will camouflage your defects instead of calling attention to them. Apply rouge with discretion so that it will simulate the bloom of roses on your cheeks and not look as if you had been painting a barn door. Learn how to comb your hair and remember that while the beauty may take liberties with her freak bob, a homely girl can't afford to take any risk with the bizarre.

Then buy yourself the best clothes you can possibly afford, for fine feathers make fine birds. Study your style and get the things that flatter you and if you have the slightest doubt about your taste go to some good dressmaker or to the head saleswoman in a style shop and throw yourself on her mercy and let her dress you. Nobody ever thinks of a well-dressed woman as ugly. They never distinguish between her and her chiffons.

Then start out with as much determination to acquire a nifty line of accomplishments as you would a college education. Learn to play games, golf and tennis. Especially acquire almost professional skill as a dancer and a bridge player.

A raving, tearing beauty, or a girl who possesses an unusual amount of what we call "it" may step on her partner's toes and tramp his ace and get away with it, but a homely girl is simply sunk if she is a blundering amateur. On the contrary, she may be as homely as a mud fence and yet be eagerly sought as a partner if she can be counted upon to always win the game or if she is light as thistle down on her feet in a ballroom.

That also is a virtue that can be acquired. It is only necessary to think before you speak or act, and consider whether you would like to have that particular thing said or done to you. Believe me, the golden rule holds in conversation as well as it does in ethics.

If you would not enjoy having some other woman tell you that you are putting on fat or showing your age or that your new green hat makes you look yellow or ask you if it is not about time that you were getting married we tell you that she saw your husband out with a blonde flapper you may be very sure that you are not making a hit with another woman by saying such things to her.

And if it pleases you to have people remember your taste and to send you telegrams on your birthday or write you little notes of condolence when you have some misfortune or congratulate you over some good luck, why, then, you may know that other people react to these little attentions just as you do. There is no excuse for any woman above the grade of a moron going about smashing people's feelings like a cow in the social china shop.

And you can make yourself interesting. Perhaps you can never be a brilliant conversationalist, for the gift of gab is bestowed only by the high gods, but you can become an intelligent listener, and nothing will make you more sought after in society than that, for talkers are many and listeners are few and hard to come upon.

And, finally, you can add good nature and an interest in other people to your repertoire of charms, and when you do that you can snap your fingers in the face of any spoiled, self-centred beauty. And remember for your comfort that a fascinating, homely woman is the most fascinating woman on earth, and her fascinations are of the kind that never fail.

AT THE THEATRES

STUNNING GOWNS WORN BY ACTRESS AT THE DOMINION

The most beautiful gowns she has ever worn are displayed by Norma Shearer in "Let Us Be Gay." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picture of the famous stage play, now playing at the Dominion Theatre.

Dorothy Revier can have no fault to find with the variety of parts offered to her by Columbia Pictures to whom she is under contract. Miss Revier recently finished "Murder on the Roof," in which she essayed the role of a Broadway cabaret dancer. In her latest vehicle, "Vengeance," an all-talking drama of the Congo at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, she plays the role of a cultured English matron.

DAREDEVIL COWBOY AND DASHING HORSE IN WESTERN STORY

Buck Jones, filmdom's daring cowboy would not be Buck Jones without his dashing horse, Silver. The two are now appearing together in "The Lone Rider," the Columbia all-talking "western" now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

Sooke

The regular meeting of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute was held in Sooke Hall September 8, with Mrs. Howard, the president, in the chair. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Gray, who at the previous meeting kindly gave demonstrations in cake-making. Several visits to sick members were reported having been paid during the last two months. A new committee for this purpose was appointed, the following members being elected: Mesdames Kirby, Gray, Jones and Page. A sum of $15 was voted from the general fund and arrangements made for the sending of gifts of fresh and canned fruit to the Soldiers' Home. A donation was also made to the foundation fund of the National Council of Women. It was decided to hold weekly card parties during the winter months, particulars to be given later.

At the Luxton Fall Fair the Institute exhibits quilt, also competes in the decorated tables, the latter being arranged by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Strong. For the completion of the quilt a bee was held recently at the home of Mrs. R. Strong, Church Road. Among those who kindly helped with the work were Mesdames McVicker, Jordan, Arden and Miss Harris, all of Metchoin.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Thruway have returned to their home, after a few days visit to Seattle.

HUGE SEA MONSTER PROVIDES THRILLS IN "THE SEA BAT"

"The Sea Bat," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new marine melodrama which opened at the Capitol Theatre last night should rank high with the large group of people who like their drama mixed with novelty and interesting detail.

Wesley Ruggles, the director, has produced a picture which is a personification of those words with excitement added. Those who thought there was no new situation or "menace" in melodrama are invited to glance over this original story by Dorothy Yost.

Sea bats those giant rays weighing two tons or more, which infect tropical waters, are the monsters who supply the excitement of this tale. When one of them folds Nils Asher in its heavy wings, crushing him to death, it starts a war of reprisal in which the tangled romances of Charles Bickford, Raquel Torres and John Miljan form a dramatic overture.

COLISEUM SHOWS WILL ROGERS IN AMUSING PICTURE

Will Rogers has his favorite seat in the Cafe de Paris, the restaurant at Fox Film Corporation studio at Beverly Hills, California, where his second all-talking picture, "So This Is London," is showing at the Coliseum Theatre, made. It is in a far corner where Rogers may be found every day he is working in a picture. He is generally surrounded by John Blystone, Owen Davis Jr., and half a dozen other interested listeners. On these occasions, Rogers does most of the talking, making the only time he entertains without being paid.

Boop-a-Doop Girl on Stand

NEA

"He said a little girl like me should not fool around with the stock market, he did." That's what Helen Kane, stage and screen star of "Boop-a-Doop," fame, had to say when, as shown above, she appeared at the bankruptcy hearing of the Bond Dress Company in New York. She testified that the $50,000 which Murray Foster, a partner in the firm, had paid her just before the company failed was in return for money she previously had given him to buy Liberty bonds. Creditors contending that the baby-talking actress was paid out of the company's funds, are seeking recovery of the sum.

"The crop has been favored by relative freedom from frost damage and by almost ideal weather for harvesting," the Dominion Government report issued last Wednesday declares. "The short straw and the extended use of combines have aided the C.T. season to establish a new high record for earliness and volume of grain marketed in the month of August. Inspections to date show a quality of wheat to be even above that of last year."

For the three prairie provinces, the preliminary estimates of total production in 1929, as compared with the revised figures for 1928 within brackets, are, in bushels, as follows: Wheat, 362,000,000 (281,000,000); oats, 267,000,000 (141,000,000); rye, 119,000,000 (79,767,000); flaxseed 1,120,000 (445,000); flaxseed, 4,700,000 (1,970,000). By provinces the yields in bushels are:

Manitoba, wheat 44,000,000 (28,565,000); oats, 52,000,000 (37,400,000); barley 50,000,000 (35,518,000); rye 2,232,000 (1,309,000); flaxseed 1,120,000 (445,000).

Saskatchewan, wheat 198,000,000 (160,565,000); oats 134,000,000 (68,944,000); barley 43,000,000 (30,755,000); rye 16,000,000 (9,201,000); flaxseed 3,400,000 (1,462,000).

Alberta, wheat 120,000,000 (92,543,000); oats 81,000,000 (41,836,000); barley 19,000,000 (12,514,000); rye 4,256,000 (2,572,000); flaxseed 240,000 (63,000).

PER ACRE YIELDS

For all Canada, the average yields per acre in bushels are as follows, with last year's figures within brackets:

Fall wheat 24.9 (24.6); spring wheat 15.1 (11.6); fall rye 16.0 (14.7); spring rye 18.1 (10.3); all rye 16.5 (13.3); flaxseed 8.4 (8.4).

The total yield in bushels, based on these averages and on the area sown are as follows, with last year's estimates within brackets: Fall wheat 362,881,000 (281,016,000); all wheat 384,769,000 (304,520,000); oats 43,975,000 (262,838,500); barley 137,594,000 (102,512,000); rye 17,450,000 (9,775,000); spring rye 6,317,000 (3,385,500); all rye 22,767,000 (13,100,500); flaxseed 4,817,000.

OTHER FOOD STUFFS

Forecast of total yields for all Canada, as compared with the final estimate for 1928, within brackets, follows: Peas 2,144,000 bushels (1,979,800); beans 1,170,000 (1,491,500); buckwheat 10,187,000 (10,470,100); mixed grains 42,763,000 (35,793,700); corn for husking 47,754,000 (39,890,000); turkeys, etc. 36,327,000 (36,238,000); tons: fodder corn 3,005,000 (3,222,300); sugar beets 391,000 (864,000). The revised estimate of the yield of hay and clover is 15,104,000 tons, as compared with last year's final estimate of 15,833,000 tons.

U.S. Gold Export

To Europe Ending

New York, Sept. 12.—A total absence of gold exports from this country to Europe, with the possible exception of small shipments to France, is expected for the balance of this year by well-informed banking quarters here. A shift in the balance of trade and continued absence of substantial foreign financing are held chiefly responsible for the expected check to the gold outflow from this country.

GIVES PLEA FOR BUYING AT HOME

George I. Warren Speaker at Duncan Board of Trade
Meeting

Duncan, Sept. 12.—One of the most effective ways for a community to attain prosperity is to create a desire on the part of its citizens for home products said George I. Warren, Victoria, in an address before the Duncan Board of Trade last night.

Mr. Warren referred at length to the large amount of money Canada sends south to the United States for commodities each year and particularly mentioned some of the products Canada bought from the United States in preference to articles manufactured in the Dominion.

"Although Canada is known as one of the largest salmon producing countries," he said, "last year $304,725 was sent to the United States for 1,348,317 pounds of canned salmon; $517,236 pounds of ham were purchased from that country, at an expense of $1,436,026, while $303,890 was sent out to purchase 3,455,869 pounds of bacon. Over 11,000,000 pounds of pickled pork was imported, costing $1,534,563. Canada is also known as a pulp and paper manufacturing country, and I note that 12,193,178 pounds of book paper, not coated, were purchased from that country for $725,272. Many like articles were purchased, and the Canadian consumer apparently is not conscious of the fact that the demand for Canadian goods would result in better prosperity for his country—for his community."

"You people in Duncan are interested in the poultry business, and I note that last year $76,598 was sent from Canada to the United States for fresh eggs. The development of the egg business in British Columbia is rapid. The British Columbia Egg Pool between April of last year and January of this year handled 5,467,234 dozen eggs with a turnover of $1,897,492.93, an average of 30.578 per cent per dozen."

Rubber Company Steps Up Production

New York, Sept. 12.—The Flak Rubber Company will on Monday increase its production schedule from four to five days a week. The change affects 1,700 employees. The four day schedule has been in effect several months. Announcement was also made of the resignation of M. Piper, general sales manager. He came to Flak two years ago after having been with E. K. Esphenhain, who lately resigned as executive vice-president.

Felt Like Life Was Scarcely Worth Living

ds Amazed at Change
In Her Health and Appearance Since
Taking Sargon

"For fifteen years, one day to another, I miserably wondered whether life was worth the effort of health. I was in, was quite worth living," recently stated Mrs. Rosalie Ryall, 1822 Pendrell St., Vancouver, who was formerly a resident of Somerset, Eng.

"I was just a bundle of nerves and one day without indigestion, constipation, headaches and backaches, that were all such a drain on my vitality that my mother and friends begged me to try it. After only one bottle and one bottle of Sargon Pills, I honestly felt better and have more real 'staying power' than I've had in fifteen years! I scarcely ever notice a trace of my former troubles and my friends have been simply amazed at the change in my health and appearance—even my nose has changed and my eyes and skin got so yellowish, I looked like I was getting old before my time."

"A dear friend at the beach at Bowen Island, where I had been summering, told me how Sargon had helped one of our best friends and persuaded me to try it. After only one bottle and one bottle of Sargon Pills, I honestly felt better and have more real 'staying power' than I've had in fifteen years! I scarcely ever notice a trace of my former troubles and my friends have been simply amazed at the change in my health and appearance—even my nose has changed and my eyes and skin got so yellowish, I looked like I was getting old before my time."
